Japanese Say One of Their Lieutenants Killed When Small Russian Detachment Crosses From Siberia Into Manchukuo; Moscow Declares Recent Chinese Protest on Mongolian Pact Made Under Pressure From Japan

Canadian Press from Havas

Tokio, April 9.—Dispatches received here from Harbin said a Soviet detachment today invaded Manchukuan territory east of Suifenho and clashed with Japanese frontier guards, killing one of them.

The Soviet detachment, consisting of fourteen men, marched into the territory shortly after noon and battled a Japanese patrol of six men, the dispatches said. Lieut. Kawaguchi was killed, the reports said. They added the fate of the other five Japanese was not known.

FRANCE IS FOR FREE HAND

If Germany Erects Rhine Forts Republic Reserves Right to Take Any Steps

Associated Press

Geneva, April 9.—France, today injected the Rhineland issue squarely into the Geneva deliberations on the Locarno crisis and the Italo-Ethiopian conflict by reserving the right to take any steps the situation might justify if Germany should erect fortifications along the Rhine.

French ministers informed British Foreign Secretary Eden of this stand, while Salvador de Madariaga of Spain, chairman of the League of Nations conciliation committee of thirteen, sought definite statements from Italy and Ethiopia of their terms for negotiation of East African peace.

Canadian Press from Havas

London, April 9.—Political and diplomatic circles here today studied the memorandum addressed particularly to Great Britain by the French government yesterday.

It was understood the Foreign Office was chiefly occupied with the points in relation to the French peace plan—the possibility of revising the Versailles peace, and the posing of the Versailles peace, and the posing of the Versailles peace.

HEPBURN REPORTS DEATH THREATS

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 9.—In a defence of his position regarding his bill granting separate schools a larger share of corporation taxes, Premier Hepburn told the Ontario Legislature early today his life had been threatened "in no uncertain way" in the last few days.

Without describing the threats to his stand on the tax question, the Premier declared: "I am not lacking in courage. I know I am doing the right thing."

DEATH CALLS THOMAS DEASY

Pioneer Fire Chief of Victoria Passes

After half a century of public service, which commenced in the late sixties and culminated with his permanent retirement in 1924, death came this morning to Thomas Deasy, a pioneer among pioneers in British Columbia, who passed away at his Marigold home in his eighty-first year.

His death climaxed one of the most colorful careers in the history of this province, and will be regretted not only by the white race, but also by hundreds of older Indians in the Queen Charlotte Islands, who well remember his kindly philosophy as Indian agent there for fifteen years.

Mr. Deasy died after a prolonged illness, which for several months necessitated his confinement in hospital.

Outstanding in Mr. Deasy's career was his work here as chief of the local fire department as a young man of thirty-five. Under him the department earned the reputation of being one of the best on the Pacific Coast, and during the years he held office in the late eighties and early nineties, fire losses in Victoria were less than they had been in the city's history prior to those dates.

YOUNG FIREMAN

Born in Portsmouth, England, in 1857, Mr. Deasy came to Victoria in 1859 with his father, a member of the Royal Engineers. His public service actually began when, as a lad of thirteen, he joined the volunteer fire department as a lantern boy.

Three years later he graduated to the bucket brigade. In those days a man could not become a fully fledged fireman until he was eighteen years old.

League Appeals For End of Gas Warfare In Africa

Committee of Thirteen Urging Italy to Cease Use of Mustard Gas, Also Addresses Note to Ethiopia to Avoid Appearance of Prejudice

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Geneva, April 9.—The League of Nations Committee of Thirteen decided today to make an immediate appeal to both the belligerents in the East African war not to use poison gas. It began promptly to draft the text of the appeal.

Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, had urged pressed when the committee resumed its meeting this afternoon that both sides of the Ethiopian war should be asked to file a pledge to cease the use of mustard gas immediately.

When the committee met, the sub-committee of three jurists reported that no special body was provided under the convention prohibiting the use of poisoned gas, to consider charges of its violation, but that the League could do anything it liked.

The jurists had been appointed to investigate this question.

LIMITEDLeague Appeals For End of Gas Warfare
in Africa

Mr. Eden immediately came out with his charge, demanding that no more time should be lost in procedure. He said that since hostilities began 250 tons of gas had gone through the Suez Canal. He made a solemn appeal that the use of gas should end now and that the committee should begin the work of investigation immediately.

The committee made its decision without passing on allegations by Mr. Eden that Italy had already used gas in the Ethiopian campaign.

FOR NEGOTIATIONS

League officials announced that France and Great Britain had reached an agreement to proposed adjournment of the committee until April 21 to give Salvador de Madariaga, Spanish delegate, charged with exploring East African peace proposals, time to institute negotiations.

It was presumed the committee would adjourn Saturday.

ETHIOPIA'S POSITION

Geneva, April 9.—Wolde Mariam Ethiopian minister to France, called on British Foreign Secretary Eden here today and said Ethiopia was ready to talk peace with Italy, but only under the auspices of the League and within the spirit and the framework of the League covenant.

"Ethiopia absolutely refuses to negotiate alone with Italian plenipotentiaries," Mariam told Mr. Eden. "We must have the League."

NO HAIT BY ITALY

Canadian Press from Havas
Rome, April 9.—Premier Mussolini will refuse to check the Blackshirt military drive in Ethiopia before April 14 as the League of Nations Committee of Thirteen has requested, and will assert the Ethiopian army alone has taken the initiative since the beginning of March.

This has been made apparent not alone by the tone of the capital press and by Mr. Duce's remarks to the cabinet yesterday, but also by the bitter indignation provoked here by the activity of the committee. Yesterday it ordered an investigation into the use of poison gas by the Pacifist troops against the Ethiopian tribesmen.

In its reply to the committee, the Rome government will assert the Italian troops have been received as liberators in the territory, over 37,300 square miles, which they have already occupied in the last month. The tribes in that region have actually taken part in the attack on the fleeing troops of the Negus, it will be said.

"Marshal Pietro Badoglio will not stop," The Popolo di Roma said. "There are surgical operations which one cannot perform by halves on pain of having the incompletely eliminated corruption reappear."

Premier Mussolini's remarks yesterday on the Italian position are considered here as an advance reply to the League's efforts to halt hostilities.

In his address to the cabinet the Italian chief of state made it clear that "total destruction" of the Ethiopian army was necessary to give Italy colonial security.

At the same time he pointed out significantly, as a general warning, that Italy's army, while proving its quality in East Africa, continued to increase in Europe, where it would not be negligible in the international order.

SHARP FIGHTING

Addis Ababa, April 9.—A sharp en-agement between Ethiopian and Italian forces at Birko, near Gabor, on the southeastern front, was described in reports received here today.

The fighting began five days ago, and both sides have suffered heavy losses, according to the dispatches.

The outcome was not made known. Sas Bahadur Daggah Bur, about 100 miles north of Gabor, also were reported raked with a hail of machine-gun fire from raiding Italian planes yesterday.

The engagement was regarded as a foreign quarrel here as heralding a new major push of Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's forces toward the important town of Harar, about 200 miles north of Gabor.

At the same time he pointed out significantly, as a general warning, that Italy's army, while proving its quality in East Africa, continued to increase in Europe, where it would not be negligible in the international order.

sibility of winning Germany's promise not to fortify the Rhineland. The cabinet met today, but in the absence of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Geneva foreign affairs were not discussed, as was understood.

BRITISH PRESS VIEWS

Canadian Press
London, April 9.—The suggestion that France's proposals for a new peace and security system in Europe were partly impracticable, and too comprehensive was one not in British press comment today on the scheme outlined yesterday in reply to Germany's security plan.

The Manchester Guardian said: "France replied to Germany's elaborate peace plan with a plan still more elaborate. There is a danger that we shall never get down to a practical, limited programme."

It believed Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, was right in recently advocating a restricted programme for this year's negotiations. "Why should not a beginning be made with the return of Germany to the League of Nations? If she returned now, she would immediately be called on to participate in supporting the covenant and the reign of law against Italy, which would be a clear test of her intentions," said the paper.

"Doubts will be felt whether all the French suggestions are practicable," said The London Times. "There is danger inherent in every attempt to accomplish at one bound what must be undertaken in stages, and it is clearly present in the French scheme. . . . But the suggestions as a whole constitute an elaborate, far-reaching plan not to be met with purely destructive criticism but to be examined together with the German proposals."

The London Daily Telegraph said certain parts of the French plan were "wholly impracticable." Declaring it saw no obstacle to opening negotiations as soon as possible, the newspaper said it was up to the British Government to seek an opening for such talks.

SANCTITY OF PACTS

The London Morning Post said: "Mr. Flaminio, French Foreign Minister, seems to rest his hopes on the sanctity of engagements, in the League of Nations, and in collective security. It has to be admitted recent experience is not altogether encouraging in these directions."

FRENCH OPINIONS

Paris, April 9.—Widespread skepticism arose among the French themselves today over their government's new plan for peace in Europe, stirring strong attacks from the opposition.

Veteran French diplomats were represented as believing the proposals were "wholly impracticable" and caused by Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland in violation of the Versailles and Locarno treaties. Rightists criticized the plan as too international and too visionary, while some Leftist sources feared some proposals, including a preferential tariff among members of a European union, would "tend to destroy the universal character of the League."

PRESS OPINIONS

This broad skepticism was reflected in an unfavorable reception by a large section of the French press to the plan.

The Echo des affaires, expert, Parisian, writing in The Echo de Paris, said: "The plan resembles an election poster, stringing together all Geneva dreams from 1924 to 1931."

The peace proposals were based on "collective security," with regional mutual assistance pacts to be backed up by an international army under a "European commission" of the League of Nations.

The newspaper Le Journal, joining the domestic criticism of France's counter-proposals, asserted: "A strong British-French-Italian alliance would be more efficacious than a United States of Europe. Away with such sophisms."

NEW FORTIFICATIONS

Geneva, April 9.—French ministers have informed British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that if Germany, continuing its violation of treaties, erects fortifications along the Rhine, France reserves the right to take any steps the situation may justify.

The French pointed out that building of fortifications in the Rhineland zone, already remilitarized by the Reich in defiance of the Versailles treaty and Locarno pact, would be another direct violation of the Versailles agreement which ended the Great War.

What new steps France might consider were not disclosed, but Foreign Minister Flaminio's attitude made it clear that France attached greatest importance to the question of fortifications.

NO TIME LIMIT

M. Flaminio and Joseph Paul-Boncour, French Minister of State, also told Mr. Eden they were placing no time limit on the period of their negotiations with Germany.

They said they were still willing to go forward with general conversations for a "new deal" in Europe, reserving France's rights, however, concerning the Rhineland situation.

GERMAN PRESS VIEWS

Berlin, April 9.—The Reich press directed a broadside of criticism today against the French plan for European peace.

So unanimous was the condemnation by Berlin newspapers of the French proposals, issued in rebuttal to those of Adolf Hitler, that informed sources said it was indicated this attitude was ordered from "some higher up."

The Kreuzer Zeitung headlined its editorial, "France's Historic Mistake," declaring the French programme for regional mutual assistance pacts, supported by an international army under the League of Nations, must be rejected.

"If France believes it can continue, to employ the same methods with which it has suppressed people for two decades, then this is not only an error by its statement but a mistake which must lead to catastrophe, not only for Germany but for all European nations," this newspaper asserted.

LIKE A SKYSCRAPER

The Allgemeine Zeitung described the French plan as a "skyscraper of pacts and visions" for Europe.

The Voelkischer Beobachter, owned by Adolf Hitler, who had proposed negotiation of separate non-aggression pacts as a solution to the crisis arising from Germany's violation of the Locarno and Versailles treaties, said the French answer was "a document of negative spirit."

lie at the same time that newspapers published a note by Maxim Litvinoff, Foreign Commissar, in which he refused to admit there were grounds for the Chinese Government's protest.

All leading official newspapers printed the statements.

HELPLESSNESS OF NANKING

The government organ, The Izvestia, said: "We have no doubt the Chinese people will see the protest of the Nanking Government in the face of Japanese threats."

"Incapable of defending the territory under its sovereignty, the Chinese Government has already had to witness attacks against that territory by an imperialistic robber."

READY FOR DEFENCE

Izvestia said Russia intends to defend herself as well as Mongolia and declared:

"The Soviet Government, from the basis of facts, has become convinced that Mongolian fears of aggression are well founded and that there is a strong tendency among Japanese militarists to make Mongolian territory a base for attack against Soviet Russia."

The Soviet Union issued China's National Government that the Russian mutual assistance pact with Outer Mongolia would serve the best interests of Mongolian and Chinese alike in the troubled Far Eastern situation.

NO LAND CLAIMS

Chinese Charge d'Affaires Han Ju-wu, said the Soviet-Outer Mongolian virtual military alliance did not imply any Russian territorial claims.

The commissar termed the Chinese protest "unfounded." Although asserting the Nanking Government's protest could not be accepted by the U.S.S.R., M. Litvinoff declared the Soviet Mongolian agreement was not directed against the interests of any third country. The pact, he said, would lead to action only if either the U.S.S.R. or the Outer Mongolian People's Republic were to become a victim of aggression.

ant measures were contemplated, except the bill to provide for the appointment of parliamentary under-secretaries.

BUDGET SOON

Shortly after the House reassembled, Hon. Charles Dunning will announce the date for presentation of the budget.

When the House adjourned yesterday it was considering the bill to authorize assistance for unemployment relief during the present year. It received its second reading and remains in the committee stage.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES

Supplementary estimates for the last fiscal year, aggregating $51,000, were passed yesterday. Deficits on the operation of the Canadian National Railways in 1925 account for most of the sum. A large block of the main estimates for the present year have been passed, but considerable amounts remain to be voted after the recess.

Before the Senate adjourned yesterday Sir Lyman P. Duff, Deputy Governor-General, visited the Upper House and with customary pomp and ceremony gave royal assent to twelve bills which had passed through all stages in the House of Commons and Senate.

Among the bills given final approval was the Canada-United States Trade Treaty and the National Employment Commission Bill.

WILL POINT WAY

In the debate in the Senate which led up to third reading of the Employment Commission Bill, Senator R. Dandurand, Liberal leader, said the measure was not calculated to be a "cure-all," but it was contemplated the commission would point the way to public bodies in the proper direction. There was no intention to take away the responsibilities of provincial governments. "The commission will be an aid and not a substitute," he said.

MEIGHEN'S OPINION

Senator Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, gave his opinion that "futility is written across every line of this series of powers to be given the commission." The bill, he believed, contained the "language of folly" and was filled with statutory hot-air.

He believed an examination of the problem by a committee of expert-speed parliamentarians of the Senate would be of more value.

Senator George P. Graham, Liberal, Ontario, supported the measure.

DEATH CALLS
THOMAS DEASY

and it was an impatient two years that young Tom spent waiting for the time when he could be signed on as a regular employee.

At eighteen he became a regular member of the Hook and Ladder Company, and the following excerpt from The Times files of September 28, 1891, tells of his work:

"During the lively times of the seventies and eighties when the three companies used to make such efforts to reach a fire first, Tom was holding the office of second and first assistant foreman and foreman of the Hook and Ladder Company. As a volunteer fireman he also held the position of assistant engineer. When the department was taken over by the city and turned into a paid department, he was elected assistant engineer by the ratepayers. He served in that position for two years when he ran for the position of chief engineer against the late Charles Phillips, who had held the position for many years, and Henry Ridge. He received more votes than both the other candidates. That was four years ago (1887), and since then he has held the position with honor to himself and advantage to those whom he serves."

EFFICIENCY INCREASED

The story then goes on to tell how Chief Deasy increased the efficiency of the department to give it the enviable reputation which it enjoyed on the coast.

When he first came to Victoria, Mr. Deasy's family took up residence on the site now occupied by the Parliament Buildings. While still a youth he learned printing at The Colonist and then the government printing office. It was during this time he served with the fire department.

Also during his career as a fireman Mr. Deasy served under the late Sir Joseph Trutch, Government agent, on the Canadian Pacific Railway. Subsequently he worked as a printer on The Times until taking over his duties as a paid fire chief.

He remained as fire chief for fifteen years and then left Victoria for the Kootenay country, where he spent three years.

In 1910 he was appointed Indian agent with the Haida at Queen Charlotte Islands, a post which he occupied until retirement in 1924.

HELD MANY OFFICES

During his service in the government printing office Mr. Deasy also served in various other capacities for the government.

These are described in a letter which he wrote to Victoria in 1921, giving his early reminiscences. "We have seen great changes in this country since 1859," he wrote. "Death has been busy, especially during 1920, with the pioneers. Few of the Old Guard are left. Of the Royal Engineers but two remain alive. Of the staff of The Colonist during 1871 when I served my apprenticeship there, but one remains alive. Warden J. C. Brown of the New Westminster Penitentiary, who is about to be superannuated. All the legislators of 1869 and many years later, when I served as sergeant-at-arms, messenger, page and the only employee outside of the elective members, have passed away. . . . I was sorry to read of the death of the Lieutenant-Governor, the late Col. E. G. Prior. It brought back recollections of the old militia in which we spent so many years under him."

"SIMPLE LIFE AIDS LIFE"

An interesting note was added near the close of the letter. It reads: "It is passing strange that I should be a pioneer of many other places and always outside the conveniences of modern civilization, but I feel the simple life aids in prolonging life and makes me still capable of doing a part in the building up of this great province of ours, which has grown and will become before many years, the grandest country on the face of the earth."

Mr. Deasy is survived by his widow who is now confined to hospital.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 9 o'clock at St. Andrew's Cathedral, the cortege leaving St. Mortuary at 8.40 o'clock. Rev. Father D. T. Albury will officiate and interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Great Increase In
B.C. Lumber Export

"All our door business is now done in British Columbia," said Major Stephenson in explaining that this fact was due solely to the abolition of duty on doors manufactured in Canada. The British tariff on the United States product now is sixty-two cents per door.

Major Stephenson's firm imports some 400,000 manufactured doors annually while the United Kingdom a minimum of imported doors is placed at 1,500,000.

The firm of Bryce, Junior and Jellie Ltd. has its main offices at 126 Bishopgate, E.C. London, and a branch office at Liverpool and Bristol, and has business affiliations in Canada with the Canadian Western Lumber Company Ltd., Vancouver.

himself on the lumber situation while here, this morning called upon E. G. Manning, chief forester, at the Legislative Building.

VICIOUS TREATIES

"Britain recognizes that Germany must have powers of expansion," said Major Stephenson when asked about the European situation. "It is admitted that both the Versailles and Locarno treaties were vicious at their inception and impossible of application." There was little sympathy in Great Britain, he said, for France's aggressive attitude.

In the World War, Major Stephenson was attached to the staff of Sir Charles Forrester Walker, who commanded the 27th Division in France, at Gallipoli and later in Russia.

Court Rules Nina and Gerald Jennings of Burnaby Share Estate

Canadian Press
New Westminster, April 9.—Two Burnaby children today were assured of $9,000 following a judgment by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the B.C. Supreme Court here yesterday. The judgment disposed of the $9,000 cash estate of the late William Jennings.

Two uncle in England had claimed the estate, contending they were next of kin.

The two children, Nina, a niece, and Gerald, a nephew, children of George Jennings, a brother of the deceased, were awarded the judgment when it was established George Jennings had left his first wife and married his second wife after his first wife had died and after the birth of Nina and Gerald.

William Jennings died in 1934 and left no will. He had lived in an old shack apparently destitute, but after his death it was found he had $11,000 in a bank.

Vancouver, April 9.—Five disease-preventive organizations will assemble in Vancouver for joint and separate meetings from June 22 to 27, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dr. J. W. McInnes, medical health officer and president of both the western branch of the American Public Health Association and the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America.

In addition to those three bodies, the Canadian Tuberculosis Association and the British Columbia Public Health Association will hold conventions. Members of the organizations will hold a joint meeting in Victoria on June 27.

PLOT TO WRECK TRAIN ALLEGED

Associated Press
Pensacola, Fla., April 9.—Arrest of four persons during investigation of the strange story of a plot to wreck a loaded passenger train to kill the engineer, brought R. W. Vann, seventy, the railroad, hurrying today to the defence of his wife, one of those held.

"My wife is innocent," asserted Vann. Sheriff H. E. Gandy, however, said he held the sworn statements of Allen Langston and Allen Finley, two negroes, that Miss Vann had planned the engineer's death to obtain $3,000 life insurance and freedom to marry Earl Travis, a younger man. They were held on charges of conspiracy.

The plot failed, Gandy asserted, because spikes were removed from the inside rail at a curve near here and the train was supported by the undisturbed outer rail, where most of the weight rested.

Langston was quoted as saying Mrs. Vann had offered him $50 to wreck the train and another $500 "for a good job."

KING'S FORMER CADDY IS AIDED

Canadian Press
London, April 9.—Prospects brightened today for J. H. Whitbread, a former caddy to the King, who is now a pauper, when it was announced that his family was in desperate straits. He had been jobless for five years, he said, and his children needed shoes to go to school.

The King sent his former Wimbledon caddy $10 for shoes for the children.

Since that was made known, money and clothes have been sent from all directions to Whitbread. He and his wife have both accepted several offers of work.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 9.—Relief will be provided for some seventy-five single homeless men now in Vancouver from relief camps, until May 1, according to an announcement by Acting Mayor Ald. G. C. Miller.

He said the Vancouver Welfare Association had made arrangements to provide relief for the men who left relief camps before notice was given relief would not be provided in titles.

About 100 men, who have been in the city for some time and who left relief camps after federal notice of the closing of camps was posted, will not be included in the relief.

Thousands Will Cross Atlantic

People Going From Canada on Vimy Pilgrimage Are Expected to Total 6,000;
Others Will Cross to France From Great Britain

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—The nineteenth anniversary of the storming of Vimy Ridge by the Canadian Corps on April 9, 1917, has this year a special significance. It synchronizes with the preparations now approaching completion for the largest peacetime movement across the Atlantic ever undertaken by Canadians—the pilgrimage to Vimy.

On July 26 Canada's National War Memorial, acclaimed by authorities as the most magnificent structure adorning the battlefields of the Great War, will be unveiled on Vimy Ridge. It is expected that the pilgrimage will be the largest ever undertaken by Canadians—the pilgrimage to Vimy.

His Majesty has been approached on the matter, but royal participation in the ceremony is hedged about by the inhibitions of court mourning.

SHIPSLOADS OF CANADIANS
Six thousand Canadians will cross the Atlantic in a solemn pilgrimage, not only to the scene of Canada's triumph on Vimy but also to the cemeteries which dot the ancient battlefield from the North Sea to Amiens. From London word has been received that at least an equal number of Canadians and Old Countrymen who served in the Canadian Forces but who settled in the United Kingdom after the war, will join with the pilgrims from the Dominion.

The whole movement, sponsored by the Canadian Legion, has been a spontaneous expression of a national desire to do homage to Canada's war dead on the scene of their last agonies.

AT BRUSSELS AND PARIS
At the same time high officers of the Legion will visit Brussels to pay their respects to King Leopold and the Belgian people; Mons, where the war began and ended; Valenciennes, whose citizens made history by naming one of their main thoroughfares after a Canadian soldier, Sergeant Hugh Cairns, V.C. and Paris, where a wreath will be deposited on the tomb of the Unknown Warrior at the Arc de Triomphe.

These are the reasons why the storming of Vimy Ridge, nineteen years ago, has its particular meaning this year.

FROM 1914 UNTIL ESTEY
From 1914 until early in 1917 Vimy Ridge, a lofty range extending for about thirteen miles from the Scheldt River in the north to the River Scarpe in the south, had been held by the Germans. Many attempts had been made to regain it, and close to 500,000 French, British and Germans were either killed or wounded in those actions.

As part of the British offensive in April and the French offensive in May, the Champagne, the storming of Vimy Ridge was assigned in March, 1917, to the Canadian Corps, commanded by Sir Julian Byng, who later became Governor-General of Canada. Following a period of intensive preparation, the Canadians attacked on Easter Monday, April 9.

FOUR DIVISIONS
All four Canadian divisions "went over" in line—only one occasion during the war that this was so. The assault was completely successful. By nightfall only a small portion of the ridge at its northern end remained in German hands. The remainder had been captured, and the Canadians were sweeping across the plains of Douai.

Never again did the ridge revert to German hands; nor, indeed, did the former enemy make any serious attempt to retake it.

Vimy Ridge has become a symbol in Canadian life, a symbol of high endeavor, of great endurance, and of noble self-sacrifice in the name of Canada and of humanity.

FROM VANCOUVER
Vancouver, April 9.—Sometime within the next few weeks, the names of between eighty and ninety war veterans of the city hall staff here will be placed in a hat. Two names will be drawn and these two men will join the "back to Vimy" pilgrimage of Canadian veterans next July.

The city council yesterday agreed the two men selected will be allowed one month's leave of absence with salary in addition to their usual two-weeks' holiday.

STOCKMEN TO

Calgary, April 9.—For the purpose of discussing problems confronting the livestock and packing industry of western Canada, a series of conferences will be held at an early date under the auspices of the Western Canada Livestock Union.

The first conference, for British Columbia, will be held at Vancouver April 16, and will be followed by an Alberta meeting at Calgary on April 20. Conference dates for Saskatchewan and Manitoba have not yet been decided on.

The conferences will bring together representatives of the producers, packers, retailers and consumer interests.

New Tax Plans In United States

Democrat House Members
Pressing Measure Toward Completion

Associated Press
Washington, April 9.—After listening to spokesmen of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States pound the $779,000,000 tax programme, Democratic House members pressed on today to write it into bill form.

With public hearings ended in defiance of sources hinted few changes of importance would be made in the programme.

Chairman Doughton intimated that in view of vehement Republican opposition to the programme, the Democratic committee alone would be called into the meetings, which will decide the question of possible alterations.

The programme, as tentatively drawn, is featured by a tax on corporation incomes, graduated according to the portion of income held in corporation treasuries instead of being distributed to stockholders.

Germans Revise Sermon on Mount

Reichsbishop Mueller Edits
Out Jewish References to Suit Nazis

Associated Press
Berlin, April 9.—Christ's Sermon on the Mount has been adapted to a modern German view by Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller.

The main feature of the new version is elimination of all references to Jerusalem, King Solomon, Pharisees and Scribes, laws and prophets, and the Ten Commandments as made in the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

These references were held to be Jewish, and therefore to be rejected. The "modernized" Sermon on the Mount was issued in the form of a book entitled, "The German Words of God, Rendered into German by Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller."

The Reichsbishop explained he purposely had avoided the word "translated" in reference to his version.

The exhortation to turn the other cheek to a smiter is rendered by Reichsbishop Mueller thus:

"If thy comrade smit thee in the face in his wrath, it is not always right to smite him back. It is more right to preserve a superior calm. Mayhap thy comrade will repent."

Christ's blessings were altered, as, for example:

"Blessed is he who bears his sorrow manfully. He will find strength not to despair."

"Blessed is he who keeps good comradeship always, for such is the will of God."

SCORED BY DUFF COOPER
London, April 9.—Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary of State for War, whose first few months in the cabinet have involved him in several widely-discussed controversies, yesterday evening hit out at Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller's adaptation of Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

The bishop's rendition of the sermon into "the German words of God," with all references held to be Jewish eliminated, was dubbed by Mr. Duff Cooper as "travestied."

Mr. Duff Cooper made his attack on the German bishop during a committee meeting in the House of Commons, and went on to take a filing at Premier Mussolini of Italy for declaring it necessary to "wipe out and annihilate the whole people of another country."

Gold Drain In France Checked

But Before Withdrawals
Eased Off Bank of France
Lost $110,220,000 in One Week

Associated Press
Paris, April 9.—The Bank of France statement today disclosed withdrawals of gold worth 1,670,000,000 francs ($110,220,000) during the week ended April 3.

This huge withdrawal followed a loss of 114,000,000 francs ($7,524,000) in gold during the previous week when France was insisting that Reichsbischof Hitler withdraw his troops from the Rhineland.

The bank raised its discount rate to 5 per cent from 3½ per cent on March 28, indicating the withdrawals of gold were reaching the stage which was dangerous to the backing of French bank notes.

Financial authorities said the losses consequently subsided and that they believed they were halted.

The gold reserve dropped in two weeks from $5,700,000,000 to $5,917,000,000 francs ($4,339,200,000 to $4,318,552,000). The coverage on sight obligations dropped from 70.2 per cent to 67.42 per cent.

Calgary Mayor Foresees Default

Crisis For City Will Come in June, Says A. Davison

Canadian Press
Calgary, April 9.—The city of Calgary will be forced to default before July 1, Mayor Andy Davison told the Board of Trade yesterday evening when he reviewed the city's financial operations.

"In June we shall have to choose between paying interest charges or carrying on our city services and paying our relief bill," he said, "and I am inclined to think I would choose to defer our interest payments."

Mayor Davison declared the city would have to find $450,000 to carry on services and meet obligations and the Dominion and Alberta governments would have to make new sources of revenue available to the city, arrange to carry part of the relief burden, or combine both schemes to take the load off the city.

"We have got to have a new deal," he stated.

Viceroy Speaks Of Discourtesy

Earl of Willingdon, in Farewell Speech in India,
Scores Nationalists

Canadian Press
New Delhi, India, April 9.—The Earl of Willingdon, India, spoke yesterday of the "calculated discourtesy" of the Congress Nationalist Party when he delivered a farewell address to the central Legislature.

Lord Willingdon's speech was delivered in the Assembly chamber, crowded with members of both houses, but members of the Congress Party were absent. The public galleries were packed.

The Viceroy, whose term of office will expire later this month, said distress had been caused him by the "calculated discourtesy" shown by the Congress Party when he came to address the Assembly as the representative of the King-Emperor or sent messages in that capacity to be read to the House.

The former Governor-General of Canada painted a hopeful picture of the future of India in a speech lasting more than an hour. He spoke of the success of the government in its efforts to put down terrorism and communism and claimed the country was more peaceful than in 1931-32 and more prosperous and happier than for many years.

SUIT AGAINST J. COOGAN FAILS

Associated Press
Los Angeles, April 9.—Jackie Coogan, young screen actor, yesterday won two damage suits against him for $300,000.

Superior Judge Frank Swain directed a jury to bring in a verdict for Coogan. The suits were based on an automobile accident last year in which Coogan's father, John H. Coogan, and three of the actor's friends were killed.

Judge Swain ruled there was no negligence on the part of Coogan, who was driving at the time, had been drinking.

Dismissed Doctor Awaits Judgment

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 9.—Decision was reserved by Mr. Justice R. M. Dennis today yesterday on a suit by Dr. M. H. Hume against the St. Boniface Hospital. He was dismissed from the hospital staff last November after advocating, in a newspaper interview, "mercy killing" of hopelessly incurable patients. The doctor in the interview was quoted as saying "legalized euthanasia would be an admirable thing."

He is suing for one year's salary.

James Lucey PASSES AWAY

Northampton, Mass., April 9.—James Lucey, eighty-one, shoemaker and philosopher-friend of the late Calvin Coolidge, died yesterday after a long illness.

Once a White House guest, Lucey came into national attention when President Coolidge wrote him from the capital:

"It is not for you I would not be here."

Lucey was a native of County Kerry, Ireland, and came to Northampton fifty-six years ago.

NEW ZEALAND BANK CHANGES

Wellington, N.Z., April 9.—The Reserve Bank Amendment Bill was passed by the Legislative Council yesterday. It received third reading Monday in the House of Representatives. New Zealand's lower house, and thus will become law on receiving the signature of the Governor-General.

The bill makes the Reserve Bank a state concern and empowers it to regulate and control credit and currency.

McGeer Asks Many Questions

Much Information on Currency and Gold Movements
Desired in Commons

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—The laurels for the "question marathon" long held by Jean Francois Pouliot, Liberal member for Temiscouata, Que., will now adorn the brow of G. G. Mulholland, M.P. for Ontario.

Yesterday's votes and proceedings published only one question from Vancouver's mayor—but it is a dazzling one.

He has a flair for financial matters, and he presents Finance Minister Dunning with a query which, it is safe to say, will not be answered verbally the day it is asked. It has to do with the minting of bullion, currency, banking loans, debts and almost every ramification of finance.

The question is divided into twenty-four main sections. These are again subdivided into sixty-nine sub-sections. All of them come under one interrogation.

It asks for the number of coins minted and in circulation, quantity of silver in Canadian silver dollars, cost of minting silver dollars, value of gold and silver coins, and the amount of gold and silver produced in Canada, and the amount sent to the United States. The amount of gold imported into Canada is inquired about; and a wide range of questions about Canada's borrowings and interest rates is included.

Banks Scored By Edmonton Mayor

Canadian Press
Edmonton, April 9.—Banks are "the curse of the country" and Edmonton should impose a special tax of $10 by a year on main offices and $10,000 a year on branches, over and above all existing charges, Mayor Joseph Clarke believes.

He made this remark when the city by-laws committee yesterday was considering the request of the Edmonton clearing house Association for a reduction in the banks' business tax rate from the present 25 per cent of rental value to 15 per cent. The request was finally refused.

"That's popular claptrap," declared Ald. J. W. Fry in reply to the mayor's statement. "It may win you a few votes, but it certainly isn't common sense."

Buddhist Bishop Goes to Vancouver

Associated Press
Seattle, April 9.—Members of the Japanese Buddhist church of Seattle bared their heads as they stood on a railroad station platform yesterday to receive the farewell benediction of their bishop, Zenyu Aoki, as he left to head the Buddhist church in Vancouver, B.C.

They cried "Sayonara!" to him as the train departed.

He took farewell of Rev. Tatsuya Ichikawa, who succeeds to Bishop Aoki's five and a half year pastorate here.

Insurance Men Will Be Heard

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 9.—Representatives of Canadian life insurance companies will be heard on April 29 before the Senate Banking and Commerce Committee on the measure to amend the Canadian Life Insurance Companies Act, 1932. Pending the presentation of the insurance officials, action on the bill will be withheld.

The bill proposes to increase from 90 to 95 per cent the proportion of the participating fund profits of Canadian life insurance companies which must be used for the benefit of participating policy holders.

B.C. Coast Cities Have Front
Seat For Tomorrow's Great
Conflict, He Says

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 9.—Vancouver has a front seat in "tomorrow's greatest theatre of conflict," its mayor, G. G. McGeer, M.P., declared in addressing the Illuminating Engineering Society here yesterday.

Japan has welded together the imperial policies which built the British Empire and the Monroe Doctrine which maintained the autonomy of the United States' influence in this hemisphere, Mr. McGeer said.

"Only the other day Japan defied London and said she would not permit a sterling loan to be made to China," he said. "Fifty years ago Japan was a small unknown power. Today she has a challenging place in the front rank of the powerful nations of the world."

"Japan has adopted all our western ideas. She has reached out successfully for Korea, Manchuria, and now northern China. There has been a Japanese ship built outside Japan. They have more resources than England and keep increasing their naval and military strength."

He said that the Pacific coast cities have a front seat for tomorrow's great conflict, he said.

RETAIL CODE FOR CANADA URGED

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 9.—The objective of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada is a Dominion-wide code administered from Ottawa, George S. Hougham, secretary of the association, said in connection with an announcement from Edmonton that Alberta's new code for regulation of retail trade had gone into force Tuesday.

Mr. Hougham said there was not much likelihood a similar code would be advocated for Ontario. The chief value of Alberta's code was expected to be experimental rather than practical.

A fine of $5 and $25.00 costs was imposed on C. A. McGeer when he pleaded guilty in the Provincial Police Court yesterday to a charge of failing to produce a current year's driving license on demand of a police officer.

THE CANADA-UNITED STATES TRADE PACT

THE FOREIGN TRADE FIGURES FOR the two months since the Canadian-American reciprocal trade treaty went into effect are now available and they show that both countries have benefited materially from the treaty. Exports from Canada to the United States during the first two months of 1936 amounted to $41,685,000 as compared with $33,103,000 during the same period in 1935. Imports into Canada from the United States rose from $46,655,000 during the first two months of 1935, to $52,260,000 during the first two months of the present year. The movement of trade between Canada and the United States during the first two months may be seen from the following table.

Imports into Canada from the United States
	1935
January	$23,157,000
February	$23,498,000
Total	$46,655,000
Exports from Canada to the United States
	1935
January	$17,520,000
February	$15,574,000
Total	$33,103,000

This material increase both in exports and in imports is very gratifying and indicates that the treaty will be of mutual advantage to both countries. It is as yet too early to make a definite analysis of the individual items that have been affected by the trade treaty. Foreign trade to a large extent is seasonal and the movement of certain commodities varies considerably at different times of the year. However, there are clear indications that exports from Canada to the United States of livestock, liquors, fish and fish products and lumber will be substantially larger during 1936 than in previous years. Similarly, exports from the United States to Canada of certain types of steel and iron products and of textiles are likely to increase.

The report of foreign trade between Canada and the United States during the first two months already disproves many of the claims made at the time the terms of the treaty were announced. At that time it was stated both in Canada and in the United States that the treaty would result in increased unemployment and in a lower standard of living in each country. These claims, however, were made by those who were afraid of being affected adversely by the treaty. It is only natural that a reciprocal tariff treaty of a broad scope as the one concluded between Canada and the United States should have favorable as well as unfavorable features. Those who are adversely affected will no doubt blame the treaty for all their future ills.

The main question, however, is whether the country as a whole stands to lose or to gain. The figures for 1936 have already shown that both countries will gain in the long run. Both exports and imports have risen, indicating a larger volume of trade which in turn means more production and more employment in both countries. As time goes on, and the trade between Canada and the United States is restored to the level which existed prior to the establishment of tariffs in both countries, the criticisms of the treaty will gradually disappear. Once the advantages derived from the reciprocal treaty by both countries become evident there will undoubtedly be imitators and one may expect that a number of other countries will follow their example.

BALDWIN TO RETIRE?

THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF TALK in political circles in Britain of the early retirement of Premier Baldwin and some of his ministers, and no doubt there is considerable foundation for it. Moreover, there is a profound hope in many quarters that such changes will take place soon. Mr. Baldwin, personally popular, conscientious and hard-working, is described by some of his critics who know him best as lacking in the qualities essential to successful statesmanship in these critical times. His course in the Hoare-Laval fiasco made this abundantly clear. Although as head of the government he was at least as responsible for the proceedings which resulted in the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare as that minister, he remained in office after presenting an amazingly ineffective defence of his attitude—the chief feature of which was his plea that he did not know what was happening because the telephone communication between himself and his minister was interrupted.

Mr. Baldwin has blown hot and cold from day to day, whether in regard to the League, the Rhineland, France or Germany, and has been leaving the hard work to his devoted Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Eden. He has a cabinet which is divided on foreign policy, and which some able commentators fear will muddle the country into a continental war, an outcome to which the British people are definitely opposed. If he should retire there is good reason to believe that his place will be taken by a much stronger and more decisive personality, Mr. Neville Chamberlain.

GAS IN ETHIOPIA

THERE SEEMS TO BE ABUNDANT evidence that the Italians are using mustard gas and other poisonous bombs against non-combatants and defenceless communities in their war in Ethiopia, but we doubt if anything will emerge from the present inquiry by the League of Nations which will restrict the desperate measures to which Mussolini is resorting to bring the conflict to a quick conclusion. The fact that Italy has solemnly covenanted to refrain from the use of these bombs in war means nothing at all, for the League already has outlawed that country as a treaty breaker and has imposed certain limited sanctions by way of penalties.

It was scarcely to be expected that Italy would observe her covenant in this respect any more than Al Capone could have been expected to stop projecting bombs into restaurants and hotels in Cicero to preserve his dictatorship of Chicago's gangland. Military dictators will not, and can not, respect their treaty engagements when these stand in the way of the preservation of their power. Hitler's march into the Rhineland following the scrapping of other treaties was an inevitable and inexorable proceeding because it was a logical manifestation of a philosophy without which there would be no Hitlerism.

It is to be noted that France also demands that the League inquire into the Italian charges that the Ethiopians have been using dum-dum bullets. This is merely a smoke screen, for on the face of the comparative Italian and Ethiopian records in duplicity Haile Selassie has shown himself to be infinitely more trustworthy. But we may take it for granted that France, which is now howling to high heaven against Germany and has demanded that the League of Nations take drastic measures to enforce the Locarno Pact and the covenant of Geneva, will not associate herself with any measures designed to restrict Italian atrocities in Ethiopia. It is because of the private engagements of France to Italy that the League has been walking with leaden feet, and it is because of this also that British sentiment is largely unsympathetic with her today and that there is a strong feeling in Great Britain against any commitment by the British government of a military character which might involve the country in hostilities on the continent.

France's policy as a member of the League has been selfish. It implies that in the opinion of the French government the Geneva institution has but one excuse for its existence, and that is the protection of France against Germany; if the fifty odd other member states can not appreciate this, France becomes the innocent, down-trodden, unappreciated victim of the callousness of a cruel world. If the League of Nations is to be merely a chestnut picker for its dominant members, the sooner it disappears into oblivion the better, because it becomes a menace to peace instead of a bulwark against war.

"LANGUAGE OF FOLLY"

SENATOR ARTHUR MEIGHEN, former Prime Minister of Canada and a member of the government of Mr. R. B. Bennett, says the bill to establish a National Employment Commission contains the "language of folly" and is filled with "statutory hot-air."

To bolster up his obviously very weak argument, Senator Meighen told the upper chamber yesterday that he believed an examination of the unemployment problem by a committee of experienced parliamentarians of the Senate would be of more value than anything that could be established by a commission of new men.

At the first session of Parliament over which Mr. Bennett presided—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen was a member of that government—Mr. Mackenzie King suggested that the proper way to deal with the problem of unemployment, then by no means serious, would be to appoint an impartial body to get at the root of things and give its advice to the government. The suggestion fell on deaf ears. On two other occasions similar advice was given to Mr. Bennett; but the Conservative leader who, in 1930, said he would end unemployment or "perish in the attempt" remained stone-cold to Mr. King's proposal.

Now Senator Meighen, neither by word nor action had anything to say in favor of Mr. King's advice five years ago, tells the Senate that the government's bill contains the "language of folly" and is filled with "statutory hot-air." He did not even consider the subject important enough to deal with it in the last election campaign.

Mussolini has taken poison gas to Ethiopia as a civilizing agency. And this is the year of grace, 1936!

The New York Herald-Tribune, noting certain financial difficulties in Canada, does not "view with alarm." It has declared that Canada's financial record is "a very good one, indeed." This is a refreshing contrast to the barrage of current lectures we have had from other journalistic quarters much more remote.

The present government at Ottawa has put an end to "blank cheque" conduct of public business. The taxpayers, from now on, will know what their financial liabilities are to be for the business year. Their representatives will be able to come back to their constituents and tell them what has been done, or is going to be done, with their money.

BULLS OR BEARS?

The Boston Christian Science Monitor

The most unpatriotic thing that has happened in Italy in a long time is the way the stock market stumbled after Mussolini's booming announcement of putting industry under the regulation of the state. Evidently just as soon as the citizens got through cheering Il Duce's speech, they ran to a telephone and called their brokers; in other words, cheered long and sold short.

WINNING A V.C.
The Edmonton Journal

Private Peat, well known in Edmonton as a war-time recruiting orator, recently told a Detroit audience that "the Victoria Cross is the highest honor that can be given to an Englishman for service to his empire." Now private Peat ought to know better than that. The Victoria Cross is awarded only "for valor" on the field of battle in the presence of the enemy. The Order of the British Empire was instituted especially to reward outstanding services to the empire.

AN ANSWER TO MR. MCGIVERN

To the Editor:—The letter on "Defence of Canada," which appeared in The Times recently, disclosed some of the disturbing facts that the views of some of our citizens are widely at variance with the common sense of the British people.

Why will Mr. McGivern and others insist on building their proposals on non-existent conditions. The rapidly changing world set-up has made it abundantly clear to all thinking citizens of Canada that if we are to defend ourselves at all we must prepare to do so in company with our great neighbor on the south.

THE SABBATH

To the Editor:—In your issue of the fourth instant there appears a statement emanating from a Professor Johnson, who is lecturing in Victoria at the present time. He is quoted as saying that "the change from Saturday to Sunday is neither authorized nor even mentioned in the Bible," and an offer of $1,000 was falsified upon the screen for a text in the Bible, which authorized Sunday observance.

I am not acquainted with the address of the professor, and I am unable to look him up. Since, however, the issue commands the public interest, will you permit me to inform the professor of my acceptance of his challenge at the present time. He is quoted as presenting in explicit form for debate, and that the appeal he made to the original version.

For "text" I would substitute "passage" for no single verse could possibly cover such a momentous transition. For "Saturday" and "Sunday" I would substitute "the seventh day and the first day of the week" respectively. "Observance" should be restricted to Divine Worship, since Christian Jews in Palestine were compelled by law to observe the seventh day with a day of rest. The "authorization" should cover prophecy, precept and precedent—everything, in fact, which, by fair and necessary implication would evidence that the substitution had been made in New Testament times. To limit the proof to a single verse of Scripture would be utterly farcical.

If the professor agrees, would it be asking too much of you, that you name three fair-minded and disinterested scholars to render a decision on the evidence to be submitted.

STRANGE PROCEDURE

To the Editor:—At the council meeting on Monday evening, the committee of fire wardens recommended that the agreement in force for the last five years, whereby the city received $11,500 per annum for fire protection given Oak Bay, be renewed on the old terms. Alderman McGavin moved it go back to the committee, that they might ask Oak Bay for an increase, which he rightly contended was due the city in consideration of the 18 per cent (conservatively estimated) increase in Oak Bay's population since the last agreement was signed. At this juncture Alderman Luney left his seat, and when questioned, replied: "I live in Oak Bay." It is difficult at times to follow the devious mental processes of our fellow men, but when we try to follow those of some of our city fathers I confess myself beaten. Witness an alderman elected to serve on the council of the City of Victoria, refraining from voting on an important question because he lives in an adjacent municipality. If he does not feel he should vote on such a question I do not see why he presumes to occupy his aldermanic position.

CIVIC INSURANCE

To the Editor:—Will you kindly print the following letter which has been sent to His Worship the Mayor and board of aldermen, Victoria, B.C.:

"Some two years ago a body of ratepayers waited on your honorable body and contended that the city of Victoria was being mulcted excessively in the cost of insurance. That there was a combination of insurance companies that was holding up premium rates in this city and dictating to your honorable body as to the conduct of the administration of civic affairs."

"We note that you called for bids from various insurance agencies as to the rate that they would charge for insuring city property on a blanket insurance basis. Bids were received ranging from fifty-five cents per $100 to $1.60 per $100 for a three-year term. This proves conclusively the point made by that body of ratepayers that the prices paid for insurance heretofore have been excessive; nevertheless, through the public press we are now apprized that your honorable body is not prepared to accept the lowest tender, and thus impose a burden of approximately $10,000 on the ratepayers. The only implication that the ratepayers of this city can draw from your action is that your honorable body has not the interest of the ratepayers of this city at heart."

"We do hope that you will, in justice to the ratepayers, reconsider your stand and get the cheapest insurance that is available and thus help to relieve the overburdened property owner."

"A representative of the ratepayers would welcome being given an opportunity to go thoroughly into this matter before you finally decide to have the insurance written."

SAMUEL GIVES THIRD TALK

Continuing Series of Lectures on Bach

Continuing the series of morning lectures on "Bach and Other Matters," Harold Samuel in the third lecture yesterday again talked on the Bach Suites, stressing their values, vocal melodic lines and the attributes of the period in which they were written, especially the art of improvisation, surviving only today in the organ loft.

"Phrasing," he said, "should be simplicity in itself with no finish, but a continuity to the very end of the phrase." He illustrated with the allemande in the C minor Partita, and the playing of a gavotte from the English Suite without any stopping until its destination was reached or in other words no rallentando until the player gets to the penultimate bar.

The lecturer explained the paradox "a repeat without repeats," a differentiation in the playing of a repeat—the French Suite in G with the movements allemande, courante, sarabande, gavotte, bourree and loure and the gigue.

Concluding his remarks on suites, Mr. Samuel said that there were two kinds of courante, a French two and three in a bar, and Italian three in a bar only. He gave examples from the G major Partita.

"The toccata (meaning a 'touch' piece) is the most interesting of all pianoforte music," he said, "and lies in the dexterity of the performer." He explained the differences of the composer's treatment in his brilliant performance of the Toccata in C and Fantasia D major. He finally remarked that the salient features were often clearly established in the key.

RADIO BOARD UNDER FIRE

Failure to Broadcast Basketball Finals Draws Chamber of Commerce Protest

Hector Charlesworth, chairman, and the Canadian Radio Commission, were under fire at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday for signifying their intentions they will not bring a play by play description of the Canadian basketball finals to Victoria fans.

"We pay $25,000 a year toward the Radio Commission, and what do we get for it?" asked Frank Partridge, who brought the matter before the meeting.

It was noted Mr. Charlesworth had informed Mayor Leeming by mail the broadcasting was "not feasible."

Owing to the indefinite attitude of this reply it was decided to forward another letter and ask for more definite reasons as to why the broadcast was "not feasible."

HOUSING PLAN INVESTIGATED

Chamber of Commerce Committee Inquiring Into Western Operations

Investigations are now being made here by F. M. McGregor, local manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, to see what steps his firm is taking to put into effect the federal housing scheme in this vicinity, according to a progressive report to Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday from a special committee appointed to deal with the question.

After an exchange of correspondence with the Western Housing Association of Vancouver, the local committee was advised the Canada Permanent Loan Association and the Mutual Life were the two firms through which the loans were being financed.

In Vancouver the Western Housing Association has compiled a list of subscribers who are willing to put up 20 per cent for their new homes if the remaining amounts can be raised under the Act.

Harold Husband, chairman of the committee, reported another meeting was to be held shortly, from which it was expected there would arise an actual case of an application being made to build a home under the Act.

Miss Iris Grassie, Miss T. Thorburn and Miss Q. Kennett were appointed a committee to arrange a scheme for raising chapter funds, to take the place of the usual Easter tea dance. Miss Joyce Gooding will be asked to represent the chapter as delegate to the annual provincial I.O.D.E. convention in Victoria, April 21, 22 and 23.

Mr. Curtis-Sampson of Victoria will be asked to address the children of the Koksilah School on Empire Day, following the ceremony at the Duncan school.

STORIES IN STAMPS
By I. S. Klein

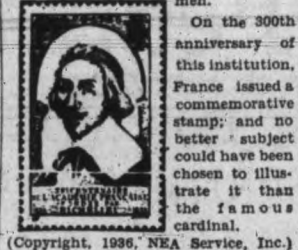

Young King Louis XIII was on the throne of France in the early part of the seventeenth century, but the real power of the country was wielded by the great cardinal, Armand Jean du Plessis, Due de Richelieu.

Cardinal Richelieu, one of the most astounding characters in European history, not only became ecclesiastical leader of France, but, from 1624 to 1642, principal minister to the king. It was through his tact and skill in diplomacy that the absolute authority of the sovereign was established.

In 1635, he established the French Academy, famous society of letters, for the purpose of developing and purifying the French language. The forty "Immortals" to whom membership of the academy is restricted, are among the world's famous literary men.

In response to a letter from the Sweet Pea Festival committee, the chapter will sponsor a candidate for queen of the festival—Miss May Compton-Lundie will be asked to accept nomination by the chapter as candidate.

Miss Iris Grassie, Miss T. Thorburn and Miss Q. Kennett were appointed a committee to arrange a scheme for raising chapter funds, to take the place of the usual Easter tea dance. Miss Joyce Gooding will be asked to represent the chapter as delegate to the annual provincial I.O.D.E. convention in Victoria, April 21, 22 and 23.

A feature of the afternoon will be the crowning of the May Queen and entertainment, including tumbling, physical culture, folk dancing and comic stunts. Cancellation To Be Investigated

Cancellation of fish trap licenses at Sooke Harbor by the federal government, will be taken up here with J. A. Motherwell of Vancouver, chief inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, it was learned at a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The directors received a letter from D. B. Plunkett, M.P., in which he said he had taken up with the minister local protests against the cancellations. The cancellation had followed similar action in Puget Sound by Washington State. Mr. Plunkett said the minister had explained. When the United States authorities took this action there had been a call from fishermen of the Fraser River to have the Dominion authorities do the same thing with the Sooke traps.

Frank H. Partridge said Mr. Motherwell would come here shortly to investigate the question and it was suggested representatives from the chamber should meet him.

Pupils Commended On Festival Work

High commendation for the work of city school children participating in the recent musical festival was voiced at yesterday evening's meeting of the city school board.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson expressed high praise for all contestants after Trustee P. E. George had moved letters of congratulation to be sent to Quadsra School for its triumph in winning eight trophies, and to North Ward for its fine showings in the poster competition.

George H. Deane, municipal inspector, informed the board 1,170 children had participated in the choral sections of the festival, and 615 had competed in the folk dancing. He was particularly warm in his praise of the standard attained in the latter section.

SACRED WORK IS PLEASING

"The Atonement" Rendered By Soloists and Choir at St. Andrew's Church

First of the special Good Friday and Easter music to be heard in Victoria was Deane Shure's sacred cantata, "The Atonement," which was given yesterday evening at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Jesse Longfield, organist and choir conductor.

The excellent rendition of the work testified to the hard work and study during past weeks on the part of the soloists and members of the chorus. There are some really very difficult passages in "The Atonement," but all were ably handled. The soloists were Miss Agnes Hood, contralto; Miss Isabelle Crawford, soprano; William Draper, tenor, and A. W. Trevett, baritone.

The choir gave a nice balance of parts in its work, and the excellent and true shading was particularly noticeable. Splendid pictures of the various passages of the cantata were painted by the choir, such as the derision of the Roman soldiers in some parts.

Especially fine was the choral number, "The Great Commission," which was the finale to the cantata. The opening chorus was also worthy of comment. It told of Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem.

Miss Crawford and Mr. Draper blended their voices beautifully and meaningfully in the duet which pictured the three hours of the crucifixion of Christ.

The lament of Peter, which followed the betrayal of his Master was told in the baritone solo so ably sung by Mr. Trevett. The sorrow of Mary Magdalene was depicted by Miss Hood, whose expressive contralto voice was heard to excellent advantage. The Song of the Angels on the morn of the Resurrection was sung in quartette form by the four soloists. This number was one of the highlights of the entire cantata.

The majestic organ accompaniment, played by Mr. Longfield, further helped to make "The Atonement" outstanding.

The Canadians are Miss Margarita Reed, Edmonton, a member of the nursing staff of the hospital of University of Alberta; Miss Clara Hiseock, a member of the nursing staff of the hospital of the University of Alberta; and Miss Jennie Budden of Montreal.

Miss Cicely Nixon and Miss L. G. Barr, South African representatives, will replace the Montreal nurses, while Miss J. Landsford will be received at the Alberta hospital. Miss A. C. Holtman, the fourth South African exchange nurse will take up duty at Vancouver General Hospital.

Miss A. Milne and N. Ingram yesterday evening won the lady's and gentleman's watches, respectively, which were given away at Kresges Social Club dance held yesterday evening in the Sons of Canada Hall, View Street.

An excellent crowd of dancers turned out to dance to the merry tunes rendered by Len Acres and his orchestra. Johnny Bonner sang a number of new songs, while Ray Hunt, comedian and tap-dancer, presented several fine skits.

Co-operation Between Musical Groups Urged

Mrs. C. S. Beals, Retiring President of Musical Arts, Touches on Problems of Diminishing Audiences: Reports Presented and Directors Chosen

Co-operation of all the musical organizations of the city in the presentation of joint concerts, with the pooling of the proceeds, is suggested by Mrs. C. S. Beals, retiring president of the Victoria Musical Arts Society, as a solution to the present dearth of listeners.

She advanced this suggestion in her address at the annual meeting of the society held yesterday evening at the Empress Hotel, following her comment on the increasing difficulty of obtaining audiences large enough to offset the expense of public performances.

NOTED ARTISTS HEARD

Mrs. Beals gave a resume of the society's activities last year, showing that out-of-town artists, who had given programmes, or contributions to programmes, were Jean de Rimsky-Korsakov, Jan Chermakovsky, Helen Louise Oles and Margaret Correll, and, just during the last few days, Harold Samuel and Randolph Hokanson, in connection with the musical evening arranged as a welcome-home for Mrs. J. O. Cameron.

After touching upon the rich musical resources of the city, the president noted that the programme committee had made a special effort to include more ensemble music on the programmes, and while the idea had not yet had much result, it was still an objective.

Commendation was made of the work of the younger branches, Mrs. Beals speaking in appreciative terms of the conveners of the programmes of these groups; also to the members of her executive, the hostesses, soloists, artists and many others who, in various ways, had shown helpful interest in the society. She also made special reference to the splendid support given by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, honorary president, and Mrs. W. B. McKicking, who has retired from the board of members after six years in the society.

REPORTS PRESENTED

In her comprehensive report, Mrs. D. B. Keir, the secretary, reported a total membership in all branches of 292, comprising 308 seniors, 35 juniors, 12 intermediates and 38 juveniles. Seven programmes had been presented.

"We feel that the work of the society is of great importance to the community as a whole, and should be better supported," this report concluded.

The audited report of the treasurer, Miss Gwen Harper, showed total receipts for the past year, including balance on hand at the end of March last year, $1,099.31, with disbursements amounting to $801.62, leaving a balance of $297.69. Since this audited statement, a further $88.02 had been entered under receipts, with $59.55 in bills payable.

The report of the junior branch was given by Miss Nellie Scowcroft, who spoke appreciatively of the efficiency and faithfulness of the young members, with special references to their president, Miss Elsie Friend.

Mrs. W. B. McKicking reported for the intermediates, reminding the members of the parent society that this group would hold its final concert of the season, which would be given by the members winners of Musical Festival events would give the programme. Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw reported for the juvenile branch, which has the encouraging membership of thirty-eight.

NEW DIRECTORS

The following directors remain on the board for the ensuing year, their terms of office not yet having expired: Mrs. E. A. Baird, Mrs. C. S. Beals, Miss Gwen Harper, Miss Dorothy Parsons, Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Reginald Cox, Edgar Holloway, Edward Parsons and Dudley Wickett.

The following six were elected from a slate of seven on the ballot paper: Miss Lora Blake, Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw, Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, Mrs. David Keir, Mrs. S. Russell Markham and Miss Nellie Scowcroft.

Miss Eva Baird presented a beautiful sheaf of pink carnations and roses to Mrs. Beals, on behalf of the members, and the president also presented beautiful bouquets to Mrs. J. O. Cameron and Mrs. W. B. McKicking, in recognition of their loyal services to the society.

Actor Balks At Wearing Bustle

Canadian Press

Hollywood, Cal., April 9.—Lionel Barrymore balked yesterday at wearing a bustle.

A scene from "The Witch of Timbuktu" required him to disguise himself in feminine clothing of some what ancient vintage. He wiggled and grunted his way into a corset, dress, shawl, hat and wig—then he found the bustle. There was a noise like an explosion.

"I'll wear everything else," he snorted, "but nobody's going to get me into a bustle, for anything."

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDERD

BABIES ALWAYS SLUMP IN MIDST OF ACQUIRING NEW HABITS

There is always an unpredictable element about what babies will do, which keeps reminding us that babies are not little machines, but very definite individuals with personalities. Any mother who is observant will notice that when her baby is learning any new habit, there are always times when he will abandon it, seemingly without reason.

For instance, the baby may for weeks have been drinking his milk or orange juice by cup, filling his mother with pride and covering himself with glory—and considerable milk or orange juice, too. Then, without notice, he will stiffen out in his chair at the approach of the cup, and bob his head as expertly as the dancer of balls in order to avoid it. In a word, he is soured on the cup and will have none of it.

WHAT'S THE REMEDY?

What shall his mother do? Stand beside him offering the cup over and over again to her own defeat and the baby's exultant victory? Or, shall she placidly put the cup aside after a few futile efforts and go back to the bottle again?

This latter is the advisable course. Nothing is gained by forcing the cup on the baby. Nothing is gained by letting him see how agitated and helpless the mother is. In a day or two, when the cup is offered again, the baby will drink its contents without a dribble.

BE COMPLACENT

Teaching the baby to use a cup is not accomplished in one day and successful training takes into account these unpredictable revolutions toward the new habit. Our leftist, "Baby from Bottle to Cup," explains the usual training method for this important change and may be had for a self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Elderd of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

Feeding problems often spring up because mothers make an issue of conduct which if dealt with complacently, would disappear of itself.

MUSICAL ARTS ENJOY CHOIR

Meistersingers Give Artistic Performance at Season's Final Concert

By G. J. D.

Yesterday evening at the Empress Hotel the Victoria Musical Arts Society, in its last monthly evening concert of the season, presented the "Meistersingers" in concert. The programme, chiefly of old favorite operatic numbers, proved very enjoyable, and the large number of musical people present followed each item with much appreciative applause, and in some instances, numbers were redemanded.

The excellent co-operation of this group falls two-fold, upon the work of the members themselves, reflecting the utmost credit upon its keen and energetic director, Frederic King. It is this gratifying esprit de corps, perhaps, more than anything else that spells its success, combining an infused spirit in the choral sphere in which the "Meistersingers" are engaged.

The opening number, "Sea Fever" (Andrews), was characteristic, moving along with a lifting rhythm, the words coming through nicely, with a good variety of tone.

In the two groups of selections from the "Bohemian Girl" and "Robin Hood," the well-known songs, with special appeal in their interpretive sense, disciplined gradations of tone and in unanimity. In the first group were the choruses "Silence, Silence" and the "Gypsy's Chorus," sung by the members in pleasing effect.

The two favorite airs, "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Hall" and "When Other Lips" were well achieved by Thelma Johns and Frank Iving, respectively, but it was thought in each case a greater legato would have enhanced the interpretations.

The "Robin Hood" selections, the solo in the "Hunting Song" was well taken by Fred Wright, as was the solo by Jack Hockridge in the "Tinker's Song," which lacked somewhat in its bold and robust lines. Frank Iving, in the solo part of the "Legend of the Chinese," also found success. In the same group was "Oh, Promise Me," by the full ensemble, including the solo-singers. This last was repeated and was unusually enjoyable in its excellent interpretive sense.

The other numbers by the club, "Killarney" (Balfie), had to be repeated; "Quindry Bay," with a beautiful pianissimo effect; "The Smuggler's Song," by Paul Edmonds, sung with sprightliness and crisp staccato passages, and Petrie's "Asleep in the Deep," another favorite, all receiving rounds of applause, the latter demanding its repetition.

The two soloists, Sheila Conway, soprano, and Ursula Aldous, both in excellent voice, as usual greatly pleased their listeners. Miss Conway sang "Vision," caught the nature of the song in graceful, dainty and judicious fashion, and was warmly applauded, and in the duet "Calm As the Night," with the charming contralto, Ursula Aldous, the voices were admirable in blend and expression, both getting into the heart of the beautiful music in artistic manner and meeting with spontaneous applause.

Again Grace Allen Timps as accompanist throughout was unflinching in support.

VICTORIA CITY TEMPLE Y.P.S.

The weekly meeting of the Victoria City Temple Young People's Society was held Tuesday, Ruth Hanson, president, in the chair. "Ours" was the theme of the worship service conducted by the literary convener, Ed Cliff, and assisted by Andy Swalk. Following the business, Mr. G. A. A. Hebdon spoke on the life and writings of Sir Walter Scott. He began his brief address by pointing out some of the interesting facts in the poet's boyhood days and as he went through life in spite of his ill-health he reached the climax of the community at large, by the writing of novels and poetry, most of which were written in his spare time.

All members are reminded of Good Friday's outing and are asked to meet at the Temple Hall at 9.30 o'clock sharp.

Business Women's Club—The Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its weekly social meeting tonight at the club-rooms, 808 Union Building, with Mrs. Victor Bartholomew and Miss Parrell as hostesses. Tea was served and a social time enjoyed.

Soroptimists Met—The members of the executive of the Greater Victoria Soroptimist Club held their usual monthly meeting on Monday, with the president, Mrs. Florence Mutrie, in the chair. The news of the founding of a Soroptimist Club in Nelson was received with great interest, and a telegram of congratulations and good wishes was immediately sent. The regional conference of Soroptimist Clubs is being held in Vancouver on April 25, and Mrs. Mutrie, president of the local club, Miss N. Foxall, regional treasurer, Mrs. McMartin and Miss Doris Atkins, regional representatives, are planning to attend. The preceding day of the fashion show held at the Hudson's Bay Co. helped the welfare fund of the club considerably, and to further augment it, plans are being made for a silver tea to be held at the children's Aid Receiving Home in April 29.

Victoria West W.M.S.—An event of unusual interest in the work of the Women's Missionary Society of Victoria West United Church was the largely-attended meeting over which Mrs. W. F. Perry presided Tuesday evening. The Cross of Christ "Glory" opened the devotional period by Mrs. A. Chisholm of First United Church. Miss M. Harman, visiting speaker, introduced by Mrs. Perry, gave her hearers in vivid story and lantern slides an account of heroic mission work carried on in the Belgian Congo. The beautiful vocal solos given by Mrs. W. Stokes, accompanied by Mrs. Young at the piano, were much enjoyed. Mrs. G. Guy in moving a vote of thanks to Mrs. Chisholm, Miss Harman, Mrs. Stokes and Mrs. Young included also Mr. Whiting who had so ably manipulated the slides. A generous Easter thank-offering was received for W.M.S. work. Rev. W. R. Brown, pastor of the church, closed the meeting with prayer and benediction. Refreshments and a social time were later enjoyed at prettily-decorated tables. Preceding the meeting a brief business session, convened at 7.30 o'clock, dealt with the resignation through illness of Mrs. A. W. Wright as president of the auxiliary. The resignation with much regret and with best wishes for her future improved health.

Mrs. Hambleton, the treasurer, reported an increase over the first quarter of last year. Mrs. Mitchell, the temperance secretary, deplored the temptation to which young people are exposed by the offering of alcoholic beverages by social hostesses. Visits were reported and gifts taken to the suffering in homes and hospitals. Mrs. Harris read a letter of appreciation from Mr. McIntyre re offering sent in and of temperance work, also letters of thanks for supplies sent to missions and hospitals. An Easter responsive number of Scripture and song followed. An appreciated hymn "Take My Life" was sung by Miss Agnes Spencer. More than 100 doctors, nurses and others interested in science and medicine attended a special preview of this Warner Brothers film at the Dominion at the end of the theatre's regular day's schedule.

PRaise IS GENERAL. Tribute to the picture not only for its historical and scientific accuracy, but also for its entertainment value, was heard from all the members of the audience as they left the theatre.

"I am very critical of medical pictures, and almost none that I have seen have appealed to me," said Dr. Arthur B. Nash, honorary secretary of the Victoria Medical Society. "This picture was excellent, and I enjoyed it thoroughly." From the medical point of view there was no fault to be found with any detail, he and other doctors added.

The story of the picture tells, with very few frills, of the work of Pasteur in connection with bacteria and the prevention of disease by vaccination.

It is the story of a continual struggle against the prejudices of the old school of medicine and the apathy or scorn of the general public. Pasteur had to contend with the type of ignorance which refused to sterilize surgical instruments to prevent infection simply because others before had not done so.

ONE-MAN PICTURE. "The Story of Louis Pasteur" is very nearly a one-man picture. Paul Muni, as Pasteur, dominates the whole story. By his superb acting he brings drama and gripping excitement to a piece which another actor might have made nothing but another educational picture.

His acting is restrained yet forceful, with an underlying glint of humor which saves the film from complete starkness.

The supporting cast, which includes few prominent names, is uniformly good. There is no overacting. Josephine Hutchinson takes the part of Pasteur's wife, and there is nothing theatrical about her devotion to her husband. Anita Louise as his daughter, Annette, and Donald Woods as her fiancé and later her husband, Dr. Jean Martel, both act with strength and not the least suggestion of sickly romance.

Fitz Leiber, as Dr. Charbonnet, Pasteur's chief rival and the man who nearly brings his work to nothing, is a suave and not too heavy villain.

The story deals with the period of Pasteur's life after his discoveries in connection with bacteria in wine and milk. His work to prevent anthrax, hydrophobia and childbed fever, the scottish fight that work met, and the final acclaim by the whole world when Pasteur was an old man, broken in health, are simply told.

The picture is one likely to appeal not only to the man who has studied medicine, but to the general run of people who appreciate excellent and sober acting and a gripping

Cowichan Branch of Canadian Legion Protest Dismissal of C. R. Purvey

Special to The Times. Duncan, April 9.—Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion, meeting here Monday evening with Comrade A. Bischofberger in the chair, passed a resolution strongly protesting the dismissal, without stated reason, of C. R. Purvey, fisheries guardian. The resolution further requested that the provincial command be asked to take the matter up with Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for B.C., and to urge the department of fisheries at Ottawa to reinstate Mr. Purvey.

Reports of delegates to the convention held in Vancouver were given by Comrades Jarvis and Bischofberger. Comrade Bischofberger said that since the last convention 177 new branches had been established in Canada with 38,696 new members. It is feared that some of the large manufacturing concerns are beginning to object to so many holidays in the year, but the legion decided to ask the government to have Remembrance Day kept on the statute book as a public holiday.

TO MEET ON HEALTH PLAN

School Board to Hear Dr. H. E. Young's Suggestions For Service Next Week

Considerably agitated over the present indefinite health protection service in local schools, Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman of the city school board, yesterday evening requested the board to accelerate its activities towards establishing a permanent service. He suggested the city body meet Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer, on April 16, to hear the latter's ideas on the most satisfactory system for Victoria. Discussions, he said, would probably cover the metropolitan area idea.

Trustee Walter Stenland spoke of the delay, noting the city would have to see Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt before taking any action along the metropolitan area scheme.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson suggested the board meet Dr. Young hear his suggestions and then adjourn to meet again after learning the reactions of the other municipalities. His suggestion was adopted, and April 16 was set for the meeting, yesterday evening's session having been adjourned with business uncompleted.

Six applications for junior membership in the Chamber of Commerce were approved by the directors yesterday.

Bond servants were the people who came into America in colonial times and were sold into servitude upon reaching this country, if they were not already bound to a master. They were free at the close of their term of service.

NO TAMPERING WITH TENDERS

All Paint Supply Bids Kept Strictly Private, Trustee Tells School Board

To contradict and forestall any unfavorable suggestions which might be circulated over the action of the board in allotting certain contracts to the Stenland Co. Ltd., Trustee P. E. George, chairman of the building and grounds committee of the City School Board, yesterday evening said all tenders had been thoroughly sealed and placed beyond the reach of any trustees.

The tenders had been filed in a ballot box and had been taken from the box and placed in a sealed envelope by the officials prior to their opening, he added. He had made the remark to protect Trustee Walter Stenland, whose firm received contracts for $588.56 worth of paint materials, by submitting lowest tenders. Trustee Stenland retired before the tenders were discussed.

Remarking on the possible circulation of rumors, Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman of the board, said he paid no attention to rumors.

"We cannot listen to any tittle-tattle over the telephone," he said. If anyone felt they had a grievance, he should air it before the board as a whole, the chairman added.

Other bids for paint materials, with the firms and the tenders accepted, follow: J. J. Ross & Sons $117.96; Harle-Andrews Paints Ltd. $45.60; British America Paint Co. Ltd. $28; McLennan, McPeely & Prior Ltd. $102.81.

Hickman Tye Hardware Co. Ltd. was awarded a contract for goods valued at $74.20, while the Coast Contracting and Paving Co. Ltd. was given another for $190.

The $800 or $900 worth of materials would go as far as $2,000 spent in the paint ready mixed, Trustee George said.

The committee also accepted the tenders of Ray Smalley for the demolition of a house at 1648 Fell Street. The company will pay $125

Board Challenged By Labor Council

competency of Building and Grounds Superintendent Questioned at School Board Meeting; Painter's Dismissal Raises Question

A double challenge was cast before the City School Board yesterday evening by spokesmen for the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

On one point the council delegates questioned the competency of Major A. C. Hinton, superintendent of buildings and grounds, along with the manner in which he had been appointed.

The other question involved alleged undue influence by members of the board in the reported dismissal of a painter.

C. Chivers, chairman of the legislative committee of the Trades and Labor Council, told the board the council had been informed Alfred Wetherell, engaged by the board in 1927, was not satisfied with the treatment he had received. Mr. Chivers told by Mr. Moresby the board could take no action against any of its members.

Mr. Chivers changed his case to protest the action of a board employee, Major Hinton.

Mr. Chivers said Major Hinton had told Mr. Wetherell he was not competent to judge the competency of Mr. Wetherell.

Called for Apology
Fred Oliver, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Council, said Major Hinton had said he was a friend of Mr. Wetherell and would start him back to work if Mr. Wetherell would apologize for certain things he had said.

Trustee Moresby summarized the protests of the council under four headings. One claimed Mr. Wetherell, an employee of the board, was dismissed without just cause on the grounds of incompetency; a second charged the dismissal to vindictive action by a member of the board; the third said he was dismissed by Major Hinton, who was not competent to decide on his competency, through undue influence by a member of the board, and the fourth claimed Mr. Wetherell had been promised re-employment if he made apologies in certain quarters.

Trustee Ferguson said nothing had come to him officially, but he had heard at second hand that he, Trustee Ferguson, had approached Mr. Wetherell and urged him to take out life insurance. The insinuation was made that he had helped to put him out of his job.

The trustee denied the charges, adding that when he had been a member of the building and grounds committee, Mr. Wetherell had received as much or more work than he had done previously. Since the end of last term, Trustee Ferguson remarked, he had not been a member of the building and grounds committee, and he did not flatter himself to the extent that he thought his influence would carry the board to the action it took.

NO RELATIONSHIP
Trustee Charles Bishop traced the amount of work done by Mr. Wetherell since he was first employed. There was no relationship between Trustee Ferguson and a painter called Ferguson, who had been engaged by the board since the beginning of the year.

Trustee George noted Major Hinton had been supervisor of works only since the beginning of the fall term when re-organization had been carried out. When the committee's yearly appropriation had expired, he had authorized the laying off of several employees, he said. He remarked upon the favorable treatment accorded Mr. Wetherell last year.

Mr. Wetherell was laid off and not dismissed last year, when funds came to an end. No pressure had been brought to bear on his dismissal, as far as Trustee George knew. When Mr. Wetherell had had another painter put under him, he had been given a wage increase of twenty-five cents a day, Trustee George said.

Mr. Chivers asked if it was the duty of a trustee to keep telling a workman to "get a move on?" Mr. Oliver asked questions of similar import. Trustee Ferguson said he and Trustee Bishop had been particularly interested in one project, and had asked how much time it was going to take. Criticism was not intended, he added.

Trustee Bishop said he was "mighty nice" to Mr. Wetherell.

PAINTER STATES CASE
Mr. Wetherell was called to state his case. He had been engaged in 1927, and as far as he knew had done satisfactory work until the end of last year. He spoke of the twenty-five cents a day raise he had been given, and said Trustee Ferguson had come to him to suggest he invest the increase in insurance. Mr. Wetherell said he was carrying as much as he could and did not want any more. Two or three weeks later, Mr. Wetherell said, Trustee Ferguson had come to him and said, "I don't think you are a competent man."

He asked Mr. Ferguson to get a competent man to judge him, Mr. Wetherell said, and quoted the trustee as saying such a man's opinion would not change his.

Mr. Wetherell told of outside painting on a school and referred to almost daily visits by Trustee Ferguson and Bishop, who, he said, had kept telling him to get a move on. He had treated the matter as a joke at first, but frequent repetitions got under his skin.

He was quite satisfied when Major Hinton told him he was laid off because all the money was spent, Mr. Wetherell said. He had called on Trustee George and asked when he was going to start again. On one occasion Trustee George had said, "I think you're fired," Mr. Wetherell said.

NO APOLOGY
He spoke of interviews with other trustees, including the chairman, before finding a Mr. Ferguson had been engaged as school painter. He had seen Major Hinton and the major had told him he was only laid off, and would be started again if he made apologies for things he had been reported as saying. "I had no apologies to make," he said.

Misunderstandings with the board officials had prevented him from going on relief, he told the school board, adding he was a married man with five children.

Trustee Moresby traced his connections with Mr. Wetherell from the latter's engagement until last year when he had first been told that Trustee George's work was not satisfactory to the building and grounds superintendent.

Mr. Oliver asked if Major Hinton was qualified to pass judgment. He had references from previous employers on building and grounds work? he queried.

The labor council had been amused by the appointment of Major Hinton, a physical instructor, as supervisor of building and grounds, Mr. Chivers said, before outlining the requirements for the latter post. The council specifically objected to the fact no advertisement had been made calling for applicants for the job. "He was squeezed in," the labor council man said.

STUGGESTS TEST
He suggested Major Hinton write a test paper on building and grounds supervision work before alleging Major Hinton was trying to get information from employees conversant with their work by telling them they were wrong and then noting their answers.

If the electors were not satisfied with the action of the trustees, they should "kick" them out at election time, Trustee Moresby said. It was undoubtedly the duty of the board to pick the most efficient men, he added.

Trustee George said the board had ratified Major Hinton's appointment at the beginning of this year after a period of probation. That action had been taken to effect economy. He was not being paid for two jobs of supervising physical education and building and grounds with two salaries, he said.

Closing the argument, Mr. Chivers asked that all permanent posts on the school board be filled by people chosen from applicants responding to advertisement.

The board promised to give the matter careful consideration.

LABOR LEADER URGES UNITY

Thomas Ewen Wants Amalgamation of Trade Unions in Single Organization

Thomas Ewen, national secretary of the Workers' Unity League, a Canadian organization with a membership of approximately 30,000 workers, presented arguments in favor of the amalgamation of trade unions into one federated body in Canada, at a public meeting held yesterday evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The speaker was introduced by Edward Logan, chairman.

Trade unions in Canada, said Mr. Ewen, were divided. In such organizations as the American Federation of Labor, All-Canadian Congress, National Catholic Union, Workers' Unity League and the Independent groups there were about 300,000 organized workers with a potential membership, if properly organized into a single body of 1,500,000, the speaker said.

Concerning individual industries there was an even greater division, said Mr. Ewen, citing the Big Four, or railway groups, which had no fewer than eighteen distinct unions. Through their inability to present a united front in making demands, he said, they had suffered by reduced wages, layoffs and hours of work. Between 40,000 and 50,000 railway workers in Canada had been scrapped since the beginning of the depression, the speaker estimated.

MOVEMENT UNDER WAY
The Big Four had now realized the fallacy of attempting to get better conditions because of internal discord, and Mr. Ewen intimated that a movement was under way in Canada to bring all labor groups into one organization.

Touching upon strikes, Mr. Ewen said that Ontario should be admitted to the unions "to destroy once and for all time the practice of operators of industry pitting one class of worker against another."

Conditions in the lumbering, mining and other basic industries, and the difficulties experienced by workers in securing the right of organization, he said, were reviewed by the speaker.

He related circumstances which led to the trouble at Corbin and stressed the need for collective action in the coal mining areas of British Columbia and Alberta.

P. Wilson spoke briefly on trade unionism during the meeting.

BOOKLETS PUT IN JURY ROOM

But Case Proceeds When Juror Confesses: Evans Acquitted

George Evans was acquitted of manslaughter Wednesday evening. The assize court jury found him not guilty of bringing about the death of Robert Robert Ryley, Work Point Barracks soldier, on January 19, when the motorcycle on which Ryley was a back-seat passenger crashed with Evans' lumber-laden truck as it came into Lyall Street, Esquimalt. The prosecution charged Evans with negligence in failing to obey the stop sign at the Fraser Street corner.

Something unusual in the way of enlightening juries was revealed before the verdict was brought in, when it was discovered that the jury room had been supplied with a quantity of literature bearing in a general way on the case. This was in the form of booklets entitled the "A B C of Driving."

Mr. Justice Robertson at once ordered inquiries into how reading material bearing on the case being tried had been placed for the jurors in the room in which they were to reach their verdict.

Then one of the jurors arose and confessed he had brought the booklets down for the jurors. He expressed regret if he had been guilty of violating the rules aimed at guarding jurors from being improperly influenced, but explained that when he brought the books he had not thought any harm would be done.

Henry C. Hall, K.C., crown prosecutor, and H. W. Dwyer, defence counsel, both arose and said they did not think any harm had been done in the way of the minds of the jury being worked on by the booklets, as the jurors had not had an opportunity of reading the booklets before their illegal presence in the jury room had been discovered.

Mr. Justice Robertson accepted the statement of the two counsel and after issuing a general warning regarding the safeguarding of juries, the judge ordered the case to proceed.

In bringing in its verdict, the jury under Fred White, made the following recommendations:

1. That stop signs be placed as nearly as possible to the property line and yellow lines painted on the roadway to indicate them.
2. That slow signs should be different in shape and color, and placed about fifty feet from intersections.
3. That rules be enforced with regard to carrying passengers on motorcycles.
4. That rules be enforced with regard to obstructing the vision of motor truck drivers by improper loading.
5. That better accommodation be provided for women jurors, who when now empaneled with men find themselves in a jury room equipped only for men.

The judge said he would forward the recommendations to the proper authorities.

TALKS ON FUR TO RABBIT BREEDERS

"Probably about 90 per cent of the fur worn today is rabbit fur in some form or another," said F. P. Boucher, secretary of the B.C. Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association, in a lecture before the association on "The Fur End of the Rabbit Industry" this week.

The pet was the skin of the rabbit before tanning while the fur was usually the skin after tanning he said in explaining these two words.

Chinaman Killed At Logging Camp

Gee Chee, Chinese, was killed yesterday afternoon when caught between rolling logs while working at W. J. Milligan's camp, near Shirley according to a report to Provincial Police.

The accident was not witnessed as the Chinaman was working alone at the time. When he was found his head appeared to have been crushed between two logs.

Constable E. Holm attended with Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, under whose instructions the body was removed to McCall's Funeral Parlors, where an inquest was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

A whale, weighing 12,000 pounds once floated into the harbor of Cuxhaven, Germany, and tied up ship traffic until it was removed.

Number of mental patients requiring institutional care is increasing at the rate of 200 annually in the province of Ontario.

Detroit Favored To Take Third Straight Game From Leafs

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

DETROIT RED WINGS, champions of the National Hockey League, appear definitely headed toward the Stanley Cup, representing the world professional championship. After the convincing 9 to 4 setback hung on the Red Wings made it three in a row tonight in Maple Leaf Gardens.

The Detroit club is hitting a pace that is going to take a mighty lot of stippling and with the Toronto defence shattered and wobbling, the task of the Leafs looks pretty hopeless. However, one can never tell. The majority counted the Toronto club out of the picture when they lost the first game to Boston, but the team proved it can stage a comeback.

If Toronto takes it on the chin tonight it is pretty certain Manager Smythe will make some changes in his defence before next season rolls around. The Toronto last line has proven as player-tight as a sieve is for water all season and the way the Detroit forwards were breezing in on goalie George Hainsworth on Tuesday evening there might just as well have been no defence players on the ice. Apparently they were all trying to be forwards. If Andy Blair had not come through after being converted from a forward into a defenceman the Leafs would have been in a worse plight during the regular schedule. And Blair was the man who was nearly crying for somebody to take off his hands early in the season.

Tonight in Winnipeg the first shot will be fired in Canada's amateur hockey championship finals, when Kimberley Dynamiters engage Sudbury Falcons in the opening game for the Allan Cup, representing the senior title. Next Saturday in Toronto the Saskatoon Wesleys will tackle West Toronto Nationals in the final for the national championship.

The Wesleys have been in the fight for the junior championship for a number of years, but in previous attempts have never been quite good enough. With the experience of having played against senior clubs all season the Wesleys should be able to give a good account of themselves against the Nationals, eastern champions.

"Pickling" in brine twice daily formed part of the training routine of John Henry Lewis, the Arkansas negro, for his world light-heavyweight championship fight against Jack Moe Avoy, the British middleweight champion. This strange item in the negro's daily round of preparation, emphasized his great respect for the devastating punching powers of the British champion. Lewis even went to the extent of soaking his head, generally acknowledged to be the most invulnerable part of a negro's armor.

Connie Mack is reported vexed by his ineffectual Philadelphia Athletics. But not half as much as the Shibe Park customers will be this summer. That is, if there are any customers. The finest compliment paid Joe Dimaggio to date comes from the St. Louis Cardinals, who predict that the New York Yankee recruit will be one of the leading hitters of the American League this season. Playing managers have

VICTORY WOULD PLACE CLUB IN HALL OF FAME

Team Would Go Down As One of Greatest in Hockey; Toronto Determined

Broadcast Game Over Network

Tonight's Stanley Cup hockey game between the Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings will be broadcast over the network of the Canadian Radio Commission starting at 6 o'clock, Victoria time.

Toronto, April 9.—It may be assumed the vanishing defence of Toronto Maple Leafs will be rounded up some time before 8.30 tonight to make a last stand at Maple Leaf Gardens against the Red Wings of Detroit. Technically, it can be said the Leafs possess a defence.

They have King Clancy and Hap Day, who work together, and Red Horner and Andy Blair, who team up when the veterans are resting. The Red Wings would be surprised, indeed, should these fellows decide to play defence tonight. They might be surprised into losing the game.

On the point of achieving hockey greatness such as few teams in post-war times have reached, the Red Wings will be Stanley Cup and National League champions tonight if they humble Leafs for the third straight time in the best-of-five series. A crowd of 14,000 or more will watch them try.

Whether or not they had a defence to overcome on their way goalwards, the Red Wings of Jack Adams and J. Norris looked like a masterful hockey machine as they cruised the Leafs 3 to 1 and 9 to 2 in the opening games on Detroit ice. Few veteran critics admitted having seen better Stanley Cup teams.

In the earlier N.H.L. finals against Montreal Maroons, the Wings won by scores of 1 to 0, 3 to 0 and 2 to 1, so there remained not the slightest doubt of their superiority over the Stanley Cup winners of 1935. Now there remains only the final hurdle to be taken.

Should they conquer the Leafs this time, completing an amazing six-game sweep of the playoffs, the Red Wings will go down in the record as one of the best teams of all time. The plump and cautious Adams, one of hockey's most prolific scorers in the years immediately following the war, will have reached the top as a coach for the first time.

The question to be answered tonight is whether the vanishing defence of the Leafs can be located for the occasion and whether the Red Wings will knock it over anyway. There seems little doubt Dick Irvin will order defensive measures at the outset—a strange issue for Toronto.

It is in the Leafs that the Leafs have engaged in a defensive duel of their own choosing on home ice. They have been the mighty bombers of the sport since 1932, the greatest collection of marksmen in the business, the boys who could always score. But they have already bowed to better snipers.

In the series the Red Wings have accomplished extraordinary scoring feats in the face of Toronto's strongest offensive. They blocked the Leaf attack neatly and then stepped clear and rushed down on veteran George Hainsworth, the goalie without a friend. Hainsworth has been a one-man defence.

Against the brilliant passing plays conducted by Marty Barry, Herbie Lewis and Larry Aurie; Johnny Sorrell, Wally Kilrea and Moderne Bruneteau; Ken Kilrea, Gordon Pettigrew (Tura to Page 14, Col. 1)

a tough time in spring batting practice. The pitchers try to convince the boss. Superstitious Patsy Berg wore the same skirt in her Florida golf matches during the winter that she wore last summer. The Minneapolis minis won't even have it altered, although she has outgrown it several inches in width and length. Dixie Dean won't keep more than $5,000 in any one bank. Bill Klein hasn't been hit by a batted ball in thirty years of umpiring. Only two members of the St. Louis Browns hit 300 or more in the American League in 1935. They are Julius Solters and Sam West. The new stands at Navin Field, Detroit, should enable Hank Greenberg, Goose Goslin, and Charley Gehringer to fatten their home run totals. They won't hurt Al Simmons, nor Rudy York, who accounted for thirty-two circuit clouts in the Texas League last term.

Sports Events On Tomorrow

With bicycle and road races, football and golf scheduled sports fans will be well "kicked" after tomorrow.

The events, along with the places they are being played and the starting times follow:

LEATHERS AND DAULA BILLED

Cowpuncher From Texas to Battle East Indian Here Saturday

Sam "Legs" Leathers, Dallas, Texas, has been secured to meet the giant East Indian, Tiger Daula, in the main tussle on the weekly mat show to be staged Saturday evening at the Tillicum gym.

Neither of the boys need any introduction to local fans, as they have appeared here several times. In his last appearance, Leathers grappled Ganda Singh, another Hindu, to a draw. The Texan is clever and strong.

The semi-main event will bring a new face to the local ring in the person of Tiger Daula. He is the brother of Tiger Daula and tops the scales at 275 pounds. So far he has only wrestled four times on the Coast, but has four wins to his credit. Promoter Fred Richardson is busy looking for a capable opponent for the Hindu. The local opener will commence at 8.45 o'clock.

OLYMPICS IN HOCKEY WIN

Detroit Club Defeats Windsor 8 to 1 in First Game of Minor Loop Final

Detroit, April 9.—This city of champions had a firm hold on the International Hockey League championship today as Detroit Olympics rested after their victorious start in the title hunt.

The high-powered Olympics moved confidently and successfully to defeat Windsor Bull Dogs 8 to 1 here yesterday evening in the first game of the series for the league crown. They go into the second game in Windsor tomorrow night favorites to end the series quickly.

Just like their big league brothers, Red Wings of the national league, the Olympics were primed perfectly after a week's layoff. They had defeated Syracuse Stars in three straight in the first place playoff and were expected to meet stiff opposition from the tenacious Bull Dogs.

EARL ROBERTSON STARS

There was no doubt as to the result after Carl Lacombe and Art Gironx shot Olympics into a 2 to 1 lead in the first period. Jim Arnold had fired a goal for Bull Dogs after only six minutes and it seemed the Windsor defence, in front of brilliant goalie Earl Robertson, would hold. The rout of the Bull Dogs started midway through the second period in which three major penalties were handed out. Orville Roulston picked the net twice in that period and Fred Hergerts and Johnny Gallagher once apiece. Johnny Sherb, Don Smilie and Don Deacon drew the majors.

It did not take Olympics long to break into the scoring in the third period. Ron Hudson did it at a little more than four minutes from the start and Sherb wound it up four minutes later.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, Napoleon II, King of Rome, never saw Rome—much less ruled it. This title was conferred upon him by his father, Emperor Napoleon, after the fashion of emperors of the Holy Roman Empire. His birth at Tulleries Palace in 1811 seemed to establish the Napoleonic dynasty, but within three years after his birth the cause of the Bonapartes was lost.

Napoleon II received the empty honor of becoming emperor in France in name only when, in 1814, his famous father abdicated in his favor. But here again, he never ruled. Napoleon II died when he was twenty-one years old.

A golf shot so accurate that it struck the pole that marked the cup was made by George Lehman, Canterbury, Ohio, on a Los Angeles golf course. The ball shattered the bamboo pole and lodged in the centre of it—suspended just a few inches above the cup.

Rice and human hair are the favorite mediums used by E. L. Bly, scribe—"Bly, the Rice Writer," for his miniature writings. He can write two lines on one side of a single strand of grey hair, and can make his letters so small that one grain of rice is large enough for 14,000 letters. Other extraordinary feats of miniature writing by Bly are the Lord's Prayer on a single hair less than one inch long and seven lines of writing on the edge of an ordinary calling card.

Tomorrow: $6,000,000 Dinner.

Kimberley Will Battle Sudbury

First Game of Allan Cup Final For Canadian Senior Hockey Championship Opens Tonight at Winnipeg; Starting Line-ups Are Announced

Winnipeg, April 9.—Seeking their first Dominion senior hockey title, Kimberley Dynamiters and Sudbury Falcons skate onto the ice here tonight in the first game of the best-of-three series for the Allan Cup.

Coach Johnny Achtzner, who piloted the British Columbia champions to their first western championship, and Sammy Rothschild, coach of the eastern champions, announced their charges ready for the fray.

Dynamiters, arriving from the west Monday, were able to get in more practice training than Falcons, who did not reach the city until yesterday morning. Their workout in the afternoon, however, wiped away travel kinks.

The second game of the series is billed for Saturday night, and third, if necessary, Monday night.

POLICE LOOK AFTER UMP

Paul Genshlea Gets Warm Reception During Oakland-Portland Ball Game

Seattle, April 9.—Coast League baseball fans got all of the fight they have been yelling for, and so did Empire Paul Genshlea. It all happened in Emeryville yesterday as the Portland Beavers and the Oakland Acons battled through fifteen innings before the Beavers won 7 to 5. Genshlea, who says good ball players do not crab, got his share of fight, pop bottles and cushions in the twelfth when he ran Jack Glynn out of the game because the Oak right fielder protested too vigorously against his decision. Three policemen protected Genshlea from a threatened Acorn barrage.

St. Louis' beardless Senators at Sacramento got the Stringfellow habit yesterday and helped Seattle to a 9 to 3 victory with six errors.

Results follow:

Portland 7, Oakland 5.
Seattle 9, Sacramento 2.
Missions 2, Los Angeles 2.
San Francisco 5, San Diego 2.

BREVITY IS HOT CHOICE

Reigns 13 to 5 Favorite to Capture Kentucky Derby; Hollywood Second

New York, April 9.—The betting commissioners are quoting J. E. Widener's Brevity at 13 to 5 and holding Hal Price Headley's Hollywood at 4 to 1 to take the Kentucky Derby, but their trainers declare the odds far too short.

"It's a 3 to 1 shot you can't name a starter," declared Pete Coyne, who arrived with Brevity at Louisville yesterday.

"Hollywood is too short at those odds," said twenty-six-year-old Duval Headley as he watched his uncle's star work out at Belmont Park.

But regardless of the odds, Tom Shaw, eastern bookmaker, reports his bet on the two colts, which dominates the books as few horses have in recent years. The odds on Brevity were reduced sharply following his victory in the Florida Derby, in which he equalled the world record of 1:48 1/5 for a mile and one-eighth. The quotations on Hollywood declined gradually as reports of his fine conditions came from the stable.

Along with the two favorites, Shaw says he is receiving a strong play on William Woodward's Granville and E. R. Bradley's Banister. Granville, from the stable that sent out Gallant Fox and Omaha to win the Derby, still can be had at 20 to 1. The same odds are quoted against Banister, which until recently was not regarded on a par with Bradley's Blen Joll, his best two-year-old of 1935, which is held at 30 to 1.

SILENT GLOWS HOOP VICTORS

Defeat Centennials 22 to 13 and Tie-up Juvenile Basketball Play-off

Staging a second-half rally after trailing 10 to 8 at half-time, Ted Taylor's Silent Glows cage quintette came through with a 22 to 13 victory over the Centennial All-blacks in the second game of the Royal Juvenile Basketball League play-off yesterday evening in the Memorial Hall.

With the series tied up, the third game of the best-of-three final will be played next Tuesday evening in the Centennial gym at 8 o'clock. The Centennials had the better of play during the first half and had a slight lead at the interval. In the second half the Silent Glows set a pace that was too hot for their opponents to handle. Pacey was high scorer of the game, with fourteen points for the Silent Glows. Jim McCague refereed.

The teams and scores follow:

Silent Glows—Dale, Pacey 14, Parfitt 2, Sparks 2, Eyles 4, Berry, Treloar and Barton.

Centennials—Travis 6, McGary 3, Harknett, Hampton, Couch and Lovell 4.

SOCCER FINAL ON TOMORROW

Hill's Corner and Wimpy's Capitals Meet For Juvenile Honors

Lower island juvenile football champions will be named tomorrow morning when Hill's Corner and Wimpy's Capitals, league leading juvenile squads, meet at the Athletic Park at 10.30 o'clock. The winners of the title will advance to meet the up-land titleholders for the right to battle in the British Columbia final. A new trophy has been donated for tomorrow's tussle, and it will be presented after the match.

There is not much between the two clubs as their matches throughout the season have been closely fought. The line-ups follow:

Capitals—Drummond, Stewart, Brown, Berry, Williams, Rowe, Sagar, Barnes, Cozier, Hornsby and Holt.

Hill's Corner—Moss, Joyce, Blake, Miles, R. Ralph, Dale, Waring, Meddler, W. Ralph, Politano, McDonald, Westgate, Duncan, Frost and Smith.

Saturday morning will see two league matches played. Wimpy's Capitals will meet Victoria West Cubs at Athletic Park with Edgar Borde refereeing; and Hill's Corner will meet Equilmalt Meat Market at Victoria West Park. Dave Swan will officiate. Both matches will get under way at 10.30 o'clock.

SOCCER TEAMS

Line-ups of football teams for matches Saturday follow:

SET DATES FOR HOOP PLAY-OFF

Ottawa, April 9.—The dates for the eastern Canada senior basketball championship series, between Windsor Fords and Ottawa Rangers have been set for April 18, 17 and 18 in Ottawa. It was announced here yesterday evening. Winners of the best-of-three series will meet the West's representatives for the Dominion title. Due to lack of finances to bring Windsor here, Rangers may be forced to default the series.

Smallest Field in History of Championship Will Tee Off Tomorrow in Thirty-six-hole Qualifying Round at Uplands; Draw Announced

With an entry list of eighteen up until noon today the annual city amateur golf championship will get under way tomorrow morning at the Uplands Golf Club with the staging of the thirty-six-hole qualifying round. Only eight players have entered the B championship.

This is the smallest entry in the history of the tournament, and officials are at a loss to understand the lack of interest. The tournament will continue on Saturday and Sunday with the thirty-six-hole final scheduled for Monday.

Post entries will be accepted tomorrow.

Jimmy Todd, Victoria Golf Club, will defend his championship. The draw follows:

9.30—G. K. Verley and L. Roach.

9.35—Dave Randall and Walter Newcombe.

9.40—H. Brynjolfsson and R. Morrison.

9.45—J. E. Todd and Harold Pretty.

JOE LOUIS MAY MAKE LONG TOUR

New York, April 9.—A tour of eleven European countries is promised Joe Louis if he hurries Max Schmeling in June and then goes on to win the world heavyweight championship from James J. Braddock.

Jeff Dickson, former Jackson, Miss., boy who went to Paris and became Europe's No. 1 sports promoter, came to New York yesterday and outlined a proposition which Mike Jacobs O.K'd immediately on the condition that Joe's summer and fall campaign carries him to the heavyweight throne.

Starting in October, Dickson wants Louis to appear in exhibitions in England, France, Portugal, Spain, Denmark, Switzerland, Sweden, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Poland.

The tour already is booked. Jacobs has the consent of Louis and his managers. All that remains to be done is for the "Brown Bomber" to add Schmeling and Braddock to his mounting list of ring victims.

Scotty Campbell Back in Seattle

Seattle, April 9.—Scotty Campbell hopes three hours daily practice will sharpen his already brilliant golf game for his heavy summer campaigning.

Campbell, home today after leading the amateurs in the annual north-south tournament at Atlanta, Ga., said his training programme also included being coached in the middle west this summer by Tommy Armour, Chicago professional.

The practicing, and Armour's lessons, Campbell said he hoped, would win him a place on the United States Walker Cup team, which plays Britain in New York late in August.

Campbell also planned to enter the national open at Balatrol, N.J., June 4, and later the national amateur.

Mixed Foursomes At Oak Bay Links

On Easter Monday, April 13, 1936, a mixed foursomes will be played at the Victoria Golf Club, consisting of eighteen holes medal play with half the combined handicaps allowed. Players will choose their partners and opponents and arrange for their starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

BELANGER WINS

Detroit, April 9.—Charley Belanger, Winnipeg's veteran heavyweight, avenged a defeat of two weeks ago by defeating Stanley Evans, Highland Park, Mich., former United States Athletic Union champion, in a ten-round fight here yesterday evening. Belanger weighed 180, Evans 181.

B.C. Tennis Leaders Protest Canadian Stars Touring Europe

Will Urge That They Help Defend National Titles

Decide to Take Up Matter With Canadian Body; Important Proposals

Lack Majority At Annual Meet

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 9.—The British Columbia Lawn Tennis Association was on record today as being opposed to Canadian top-ranking tennis players participating in European tournaments while United States stars invaded Dominion title play and walked off with the silverware.

The proposal, put forward by E. H. Cardinali, North Vancouver, at the annual meeting of the provincial body here yesterday evening, that a letter should be written to the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association protesting this condition, was adopted unanimously.

The letter will urge that Canada's five top-ranking players should take part in the national tournament and not travel to European contests.

A curious situation developed at the meeting when the committee went over proxies, nominations and other correspondence and found the majority unconstitutional. This caused a limit to the voting power of the meeting which was finally forced to send several suggested amendments to the constitution back to member clubs for their consideration.

FINANCES LOW

It was found the bank balance of the association had dwindled from $300.53 in 1934 to $50.53 at the present time and an attempt was made to establish some system whereby the financial worries of the body could be solved.

But the meeting was again forced to hand all proposals to the secretary to be sent to member clubs for consideration when there was not the required three-fourths majority to pass them owing to the lack of voting power.

Among the proposals were: That players entering all major tournaments be assessed $1.25 entry fee, $1 going to the home club and 25 cents to the B.C.L.T.A. That players entering minor competition be assessed $1.10 with $1 for the home club and 10 cents for the association.

Another proposal called for a fee of $1.25 for all players entering major or minor tournaments while still another suggestion asked that in major tournaments under the British Columbia body's control, 75 per cent be given to the home club and 25 per cent to the provincial organization.

and Syd Howe, old George has been helpless, and no wonder. Tonight it may be different.

Bill Thomas, Buzz Bell and Charlie Conacher are expected to carry the brunt of the Toronto attack on this occasion, and they will be expected to do some backchecking on the side. The Leafs are determined, at least, to see what can be done with the rampaging Red Wings on a new basis. The betting odds were 7 to 5 and 8 to 5 that Detroit would win anyway, ending the series and making it unnecessary for the teams to play a fourth game here Saturday night.

Wesleys-Toronto Are Smart Clubs

Saskatoon Team Enters Canadian Junior Hockey Championship Final With Splendid Record

Saskatoon, April 9.—An unknown quantity in Dominion title-play, Saskatoon Wesleys, who represent the west in junior hockey's Memorial Cup classic at Toronto, are rated a capable squad.

Their fast skating, hard-hitting style of play that carried them into western final rounds three years in succession was rewarded with victory in the Abbott Cup final this year against Elmwood Maple Leafs at Winnipeg.

The Saskatchewan huskies average nineteen years of age. Distribution of weight along the attacking lines work out at 165 pounds and on the defence 180 pounds each player. Five of the squad are playing their second season together. The remainder are graduates from juvenile and intermediate ranks.

Thumbnail sketches of the players follow:

Jerome Beranek, goal, age nineteen, weight 195, one of the best junior net men in the west. Second year with Wesleys juniors. Previously starred with Wesleys midgets.

Jack Koyl, right defence, age nineteen, weight 195. First year with Wesleys. All-round athlete, stone-wall defender and equally dangerous on individual rushes.

Edwin "Pete" Rittinger, left defence, age eighteen, weight 170. Member of Wesleys' 1935 western finalists and graduate from Wesleys midget and juvenile ranks.

Pete Leswick, centre, age nineteen, weight 155. Key man of Saskatoon's first string attacking line. Seventh year with club and captain of last year's squad. Leads his mates in point-getting, tricky skater. Tried out with Amerks last fall.

Paul Kowell, captain, right wing, age nineteen, weight 170. Played with North Battleford in western senior finals last year. Equally brilliant at defence or forward position. At present on reserve list with New York Rangers.

Gordon Wilson, left wing, age nineteen, weight 170. Graduate from University of Saskatoon seniors. A six-foot husky who teams to perfection with Leswick on every important play. Fast and effective on close-in plays around the net.

Frank Dotten, centre, age nineteen, weight 160. Graduate from midget and juvenile teams. Scarcely less effective than Leswick on Wesleys second forward line. Packs a bullet-like drive and revels in play when the going is hardest.

Pete Vogt, right wing, age nineteen, weight 140. Second year with Wesleys juniors and a graduate of the club's midget and juvenile teams. Persistent back-checker and leading scorer.

Earle Newbold, left wing, age nineteen, weight 145. Was a member of the Battleford Millers on their 1935 invasion of Japan. A fast skater who gets in many shots on individual rushes.

Clifford Bennett, left wing, age nineteen, weight 150. Member of Wesleys' 1935 team. One of the speed kings of the club, tireless back-checker and effective on net-play.

Ontario Representatives Set to Return Title to East; Club Coached By Happy Day of Leafs

Toronto, April 9.—West Toronto Nationals, youthful band of hard checkers and fast skaters, today prepared to hurdle an obstacle that wrecked a West Toronto team six years ago despite the presence of such stars as Bill Thomas and Bob Gracie.

Happy Day's huskies were confident they would place the Memorial Cup, emblematic of Canadian junior hockey supremacy, in their city jurisdiction ballfield when the best of three series against Saskatoon Wesleys is over. The battle starts here Friday.

Six years ago Regina Pats beat a gallant West Toronto band in Winnipeg and the 1935-36 edition is out to avenge the defeat by the west. Winnipeg Monarchs captured the trophy last season and Nationals do not intend to let it go back in that direction this spring.

A real home-grown team, they average 162 pounds in fighting trim. Included in the line-up are the Conacher twins, Roy and Bert, brothers of National League's Charlie and Lionel.

Thumbnail sketches of the players follow:

Fred "Ginger" Hall, twenty, goalkeeper, has been playing junior the last three years with Nationals. He guarded the twine for Orilla Terriers, Mann Cup senior Canadian lacrosse champions last season.

Bill Thompson, seventeen, sub goalie, has just stepped up from school ranks. He has been used but little this season, being overshadowed by the brilliant Hall.

Johnny Crawford, hard-hitting rearguard playing his last season as a junior. This is his first season with the Redmen. At 190 pounds he is the heaviest lad on the lineup.

Bobby Laurent, defence, eighteen, makes a great teammate for Crawford. He has been with Nationals the last two years and weighs 170. He is also a lacrosse stalwart.

Ted "Red" Robertson, chunky alternate defence, has played with the Redshirts for three years, weighs 170 pounds.

Bob Conacher, defence, nineteen. This is his third year with the club. Weighs 169 pounds and is six feet tall. He resembles brother Lionel of Montreal Maroons in action.

Bob "Red" Heron, centre scoring ace, seventeen years old and weighs 155 pounds. He is the tallest player on the team with six feet one inch of craftiness and is playing his fourth season as a junior.

Gordon "Plum" Shill, eighteen, left wing, and weighs 140 pounds. A weaving type of player, he is one of the fastest members on the team. Maple Leafs are keeping a fatherly eye on him.

John "Peanuts" O'Flaherty, seventeen, right wing, is fast and has a wicked shot. This is his first season with Nationals. He weighs 145 pounds and juvenile ranks. Plays rearguard position as well as forward.

Doug Bonbernard, right wing, age nineteen, weight 158. First year in junior company. Tireless skater and a worry to opposing defencemen

April 9 Is Day For Mathematicians

Edmonton, April 9.—Today is a day of importance to persons with mathematical minds because it is a date with a "perfect square," George W. Robertson of the University of Alberta reports.

Mr. Robertson, after due study, submits the following: 1936 is forty-four squared, nine (today's date) is three squared, April is the fourth month, which is two squared, April 9 is the one hundredth day of the year, which is ten squared.

This combination will not occur again for 180 years. The next time will be on April 9, 2116, if one takes Mr. Robertson's word for it.

Yawkey Objects to Being Criticized

Millionaire Owner of Boston Red Sox Ball Team Declares He Will Spend Money For Ball Players As He Wishes; Officials of Other Clubs Complain

New York, April 9.—If it's not asking too much, Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Boston Red Sox, would like to spend his money as he pleased without too much criticism from the other owners in the American League.

Yawkey doesn't want to make anything of this. He merely wants it made clear that "with the exception of the deal for Joe Cronin every price I have been quoted as paying for ball players has been grossly exaggerated, and even if they hadn't it would be my own private concern." It is generally accepted that Yawkey has spent $3,500,000 on the club since 1931.

"Everybody's worrying about my going broke," Yawkey said. "And while I appreciate their interest, I don't think there's much of a chance of that. I'm not kicking about paying and unless I completely upset the balance of power in the league I don't think this adverse criticism is justified."

Yawkey admitted that "two or three officials of other clubs in the league" had complained about the policy of the Red Sox. From now on Yawkey hopes to be able to bolster the Red Sox without having to rely too much on his fortune. He said that the club was planning to take on additional working agreements with other clubs whenever Billy Evans, who is in charge of this work for the club, can effect satisfactory deals.

School Concert Proves Success

Sir James Douglas Pupils Provided Interesting Entertainment Last Night

Pupils of Sir James Douglas School yesterday evening gave a concert in the school auditorium which attracted a large audience. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the numbers given by the youngsters.

The concert opened with two songs "The Dream Song" and "The China Mandarin" by Division 2. Mr. Wilson conducted.

Three songs, "Ladybird," "Cherry Ripe" and "Shortening Bread," were given by Division 7, under Mrs. Smith. The third number was given in such a spirited manner that the choir had to repeat it.

Division 13 with Mr. Adams conducting, presented the songs "Snowdrop," "I'd Like to Sail" and "Song of the Music Makers," and Division 10 gave "The Slumber Boat" and "Boy Blue."

Division 6 in shorts and gym shirts presented a rhythmic physical drill.

Dancing numbers were given by Helen Finlayson, the intermediate girls, senior girls and junior girls.

Robin Woods played two solos on his piano-accompanied on the stage and played "The Toy Maker's Dream" and "The Children's March," with Miss Schroeder supervising.

The programme wound up with an amateur broadcast sponsored by a new brand of typewriter. Some splendid talent was presented. There were comic, instrumental, vocal and dancing numbers.

URGES AMITY BE PRESERVED

B. C. Nicholas Addresses 700 Delegates at Spokane Convention

Spokane, April 9.—The Writers of the Inland Empire, embracing prominent literary figures and educationists in Washington, Montana and Idaho, wound up a two-day convention in Spokane Tuesday with a dinner at which B. C. Nicholas of Victoria was the chief speaker. There were some 700 members of the association at the dinner, including also representatives of California and Oregon.

The subject of Mr. Nicholas' address was "An International Flavor," and in his remarks he used the Columbia River with its devious international origin and course as his rhetorical model. He traced the beginnings of the two great English-speaking democracies of the new world to the courts of Versailles and St. James, dealing with the establishment of New France, the expansion of French power and influence down the Mississippi and into the great west, the settlement of the Puritans in New England and the projection of British interests into the south in Virginia. He showed how the social inco-ordination between these two segments of society, which in Britain had evolved into a revolution, ultimately flared into a civil war on this continent.

Mr. Nicholas then reviewed the origin of the Hudson's Bay Company under the auspices of Charles II and its development in Canada and the United States, the formation of river organizations, particularly the Northwest Fur Company and the company organized by John Jacob Astor, incidentally noting the part played by the "obnoxious and inimitable Scot" in the operations of these great concerns.

The speaker reviewed the activities of the explorers sent out by the Northwest Company, especially MacKenzie and Thompson, the latter of whom traced the Columbia to the Pacific and established Spangane House, not far from the site of the city of Spokane.

A FAR CRY
The acquisition of the competing companies by the Hudson's Bay Company, the far-flung influence of that great company in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, the westward railroad penetration were described, and in a passing reference to the Grand Coulee Dam, the biggest project of its kind in the world, Mr. Nicholas said it was a far cry to the magnificent courts of the Bourbons at Versailles and the gay entourage of Charles Stuart at Whitehall.

Mr. Nicholas also spoke at some length on the growth and development of the two neighboring English-speaking nations on this continent, comparing the political and material progress of both. He emphasized the resemblances and differences between the two constitutions, and described the evolution of self-government in Canada from the Act of Union ninety-five years ago to the Statute of Westminster of a short time ago.

PRICELESS HERITAGE
The speaker referred to the priceless heritage shared by the two nations—just as they shared the courts of the Columbia—in their peaceful relations with one another, which he characterized as an oasis of common sense and goodwill in a desert of international suspicion, hatred and antagonism.

Nowhere else on earth, he said, did such an encouraging condition exist; nowhere else was it possible for people of important countries to plan and carry out programmes of peaceful passion or attempt to solve domestic problems without being submerged by the fear of some sudden devastation from the skies, or from the espionage and exactions of tyrannical governments.

Whatever may happen elsewhere, he declared, these two democracies should highly resolve at all costs to preserve the amicable relationship to which they dedicated themselves more than a century ago. He pointed out, however, that they were fortunate in a sense which was not present in other countries; they were not separated by differences in language, institutions and outlook upon civilization, nor were they the inheritors of a heritage of hatred, the roots of which lay deep in the centuries. Mr. Nicholas emphasized the impracticability of complete isolation in a contracting world and expressed the opinion that the moral and material pressure of Britain and United States neutrality could make a major war anywhere impossible.

The speaker attacked the Machiavellian philosophy that state morality was to be differentiated from private morality, that the responsibility for moral standards which was demanded of people was something apart from the standards of the same people when they were organized into nations. The key to the solution of external problems, in his opinion, was also the key to the solution of domestic problems—the eradication in the individual of avarice, hypocrisy, intolerance and dishonesty; the substitution of sound, independent and courageous thinking for the sloppy mechanized mental processes which prevailed so largely in a world, which, however educated it might be, was, in the mass, only at the dawn of intelligence, and which never was so childishly credulous—even when it thought the globe was flat—as it was today.

Sound and sane progress, he felt, would be slow, as it always had been. Society would not know the New Jerusalem if it saw it, but it would learn from adversity, its best teacher, from the vicissitudes which marked all of nature's manifestations from the cradle to the grave, in the to-

Ministers Meet Trade Group Heads to Discuss Show Boat Programmes

Plans for the Sunday night services proposed for the Inner Harbor

Show Boat during the summer months were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Tourist Trade Association representatives with a special committee of the Ministerial Association.

T. H. Eslick and Harry Hay represented the tourist group and Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, Dr. A. S. Inrie and Rev. C. G. MacKenzie appeared on behalf of the ministers.

The tentative plan is to have an hour's programme between 9 and 10 o'clock of a religious nature. The service would be conducted along much the same lines as the Seth Parker broadcasts. There would be community singing and solos and each Sunday the minister of the church sponsoring the programme would give a ten-minute address. It is also proposed to have church choirs take part.

The proposal will come before the Ministerial Association tomorrow when the committee submits its report.

The annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island will be held on June 10 and 11 at Qualicum Beach, according to advices given directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

NEW ZEALAND OUT OF SLUMP

Manufacturer, on Way to England, Believes Labor Government Will Do Well

The depression is a thing of the past in New Zealand, according to W. Johnston of Auckland, who was at the Dominion Hotel yesterday on his way to England for the first time since the Great War.

Mr. Johnston is a manufacturer and also has interests in sheep-raising. New Zealand had been prospering for the last eighteen months, he said. The manufacturing business had been good and the price of wool was good and showed signs of going higher.

Although he is not a Labor partisan, Mr. Johnston thinks New Zealand's first Labor government, recently returned to office, will come out all right. The ministers, he said, had set a good example by pooling their salaries.

The Labor majority at the elections was so great that he believed a great proportion of the business men must have voted in favor of the party. The country had become tired of old-line party government.

Mr. Johnston, who is a Scot by birth, believes the great need of New Zealand is immigration, although the born-colonials are opposed to it.

New Zealand, like this province, has been suffering from freak weather. The summer, now ending in the Antipodes, was one of the wettest on record.

A strange outcome of this weather was that ranchers actually had too much feed on their hands. The grass grew so tall that it had to be topped before the sheep could graze.

Mr. Johnston, who is accompanied by his wife, will sail for England from New York on the Berengaria. He expects to be home in November.

B.C. LUMBER IN BIG EXHIBITION

New Westminster Firm to Have Product Display in South Africa Exhibition

The British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers Limited of New Westminster will enter an exhibit of lumber products in the Canadian Industrial section of the Empire Products exhibition in Johannesburg, South Africa, which will be held from next September 15 to January 15, 1937.

This information was received this morning by the Victoria office of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Other provinces in Canada will enter their products, which will include: Silver-plated ware, electric ranges, ladders, stable equipment, washing machines, box shovels, iron and steel products, wire screening, rubber and hose belting, electrically welded chain, wrought-iron and steel piping, domestic electrical appliances, garden tools, heating and cooking appliances, porcelain enamel and furniture.

It was disclosed at the local office, which is situated in the Union Building, that the Union of South Africa is now the fifth largest market for Canadian exports. Last year $12,000,000 in Canadian products were taken by the Union. In 1933 the Union only took $5,000,000 of Canadian goods.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will also have their exhibits on display.

PROFESSORS FISH HERE

Fishing for grise in Victoria waters is proving a pleasant vacation diversion for Edward Ullman and George Van Vleet, professors of the Washington State College, Pullman, Wash.

Mr. Ullman is professor of geography at the Pullman College, while Mr. Van Vleet's branch of activity is wild life conservation. Mr. Van Vleet's wife is with the party, as well as Mrs. George Van Vleet Sr. of Fresno, Cal. They are all at the Empress Hotel.

"We are here solely on a vacation tour and have been enjoying some good sport fishing," said Mr. Ullman. "We went out to Saanich Inlet yesterday and with the assistance of Bob Stacey we hooked fifteen fine grise."

Mr. Ullman said he had heard a great deal in the south about Vancouver Island as a sportsman's and fisherman's paradise.

The people of the states just across the border, he said, are more and more realizing that British Columbia is an attractive vacation ground and within easy transport distance.

HALL TO CLOSE FOR FOUR DAYS

In accordance with usual procedure, the City Hall will be closed for a four-day period starting tonight. Employees will be off Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday and will return to their offices on Tuesday morning.

Officials today announced the city shop closing by-law did not call for stores to close on Monday. The statement was made to answer numerous inquiries received at the City Hall.

Weather Poor For Fishing Yesterday

Poor weather conditions greeted fishermen who were fly fishing Tuesday at Riverside, head of the Cowichan River. Ten boats were out, but their catches were small compared with those of Sunday. Rain fell and wind blew to hamper the fishermen in casting. The Haggard appears to be the best fly for catching the rainbow trout.

W. B. George Heads Alaska Company

W. B. George of Victoria was Tuesday afternoon elected president of the Portage Gold Mines Ltd., to take over the development and operation of the mining property controlled by him on the Alaska coast, eighty miles west of Valdez and developed during the last two years to the shipping point, with the first shipment recently made to the Tacoma smelter. To instal a mill and go on steady production, Mr. George incorporated the operation in a company with headquarters in Victoria, for which a British Columbia charter was issued last week.

Charles Wilson and his son, Elbert, landed a fair basket of fish. Eight rainbow trout were displayed yesterday in the show window of Wilson & Lenfesty's fishing tackle store on Government Street. The largest displayed weighed about one and a half pounds.

Directors elected with Mr. George were: Dr. W. V. Smitheringale, Kennedy Drury, Arthur Buckle, Duncan K. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer; A. D. Macfarlane, K.C.

A protest from Nanaimo Board of Trade for downward revision of the new schedule of fees for passenger and freight services operating over the Island Highway, was referred to the legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce by the directors at their meeting yesterday.

FILM EXPERT BEFORE COURT

Defence Wins Case For Technician Charged With Being Chauffeur

The legal interpretation of the word chauffeur was before Magistrate Jay in the Provincial Police Court yesterday in the hearing of a charge against Lowell W. Hanes, sound recorder for Central Films Limited, who was charged with operating a truck as a chauffeur and not having a chauffeur's license.

The charge was dismissed after W. T. Strath, counsel for the defence, had contended the defendant, while being the driver of the car, was not paid as a chauffeur and therefore not liable to a chauffeur's license.

Police testified the defendant had been stopped on the Island Highway while driving the company's sound equipment truck and had not had a chauffeur's license.

Defence witnesses, which included Fred C. Bishop, general manager of the company, and the defendant, said the equipment was too valuable to be driven around by any man other than the technician who had the responsibility of caring for the equipment. It was explained the truck was never driven by the defendant except when it carried the equipment, and it was also testified the defendant received no portion of his salary for driving.

Mr. Strath contended a man could drive a car in such a case and still not be a chauffeur. He pointed out the defendant was admitted to Canada from Hollywood as a sound technician and if he were classed as a chauffeur there would be a violation of the conditions of his admittance to this country.

On another charge of failing to have a private carrier's license for carrying the equipment, as required by 1935 amendment to the Highway Act, the company was fined $5 and $2.50 costs.

Letters of appreciation were received by the City School Board yesterday evening from the T.W.G.A. commending the board on the work accomplished at the night school domestic service classes, and from a student who expressed gratitude particularly for the work and time put in by K. G. Clark in his bookkeeping course. The latter communication also expressed appreciation for the supervision of George Bredder, head of the night classes for the city.

Sturdy Old Tar tells Story of his Good Health

His folks have used Fellows' Syrup for over 60 years.

John Wilson, sturdy 78 year old seaman, tells how 'Fellows' put him on his feet time and again, and what it did for his family when he was far away at sea. "Yes," he said, "I've had fever in Africa... nervous breakdown after rounding the Horn... laid low with bronchitis. But Fellows' Syrup has been my friend in need. I was once hale and hearty again. "My children and grandchildren have relied on it all their lives. 'Fellows' has been a mighty good friend to our family and I've never hesitated to tell friends about this grand tonic!"

SIGNAL TRAPS DECLARER

Player Asks Partner for Lead That Would Permit Slam Bidder to Make Losing Finesse

By WM. E. McKEENEY

Secretary, American Bridge League I have told you on several occasions that the possibilities of the new "defensive suit-directing signal" were almost unlimited. Benedict Jarmel, one of the youngsters stars of New York City, gave me today's hand, played in a recent duplicate game.

Jarmel sat in the East. His partner opened the ace of clubs. Now you can see the situation that confronts East. He holds the singleton king of trump, which he would like to make, and there is only one chance to make it. That is for declarer to be forced to lead from his own hand.

Jarmel reasoned that declarer might easily lay down an honor and take the finesse in spades, in which case his king would make. As South had opened the bidding, it was not unreasonable to figure that he must have the ace of hearts.

So, even though dummy was void of hearts, Jarmel decided to employ the suit-directing signal and, on his partner's ace of clubs, he played the king.

This play of an unnecessarily high card on partner's opening lead, especially when the dummy held a singleton, asked West to shift to the higher of the suits not trump, which was the king of hearts.

On another charge of failing to have a private carrier's license for carrying the equipment, as required by 1935 amendment to the Highway Act, the company was fined $5 and $2.50 costs.

WANT BONDING FEE LOWERED

Chamber of Commerce Supports Request to Restore Old Warehouse Charges

A letter to the Minister of National Revenue seeking reduction in the charges for operation of bonded warehouses was approved by directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The letter was written by a special committee named by the president to deal with the question when it came up recently.

The directors received letters from R. P. Rithet and Company and Dowell's Pacific Transfer Limited, both operators of bonded warehouses. Both firms reported they paid fees of $5 a month and the gross revenue seldom exceeded $15 a month.

Latterly the government had proposed an increase of the fee to $15 a month, but had since cut the minimum fee to $10.

Even this latter amount was too much for the two local firms who operated the warehouses merely for the convenience of the port. Harry Barnes, of Rithet's, reported their warehouse had not shown a profit for the last several years.

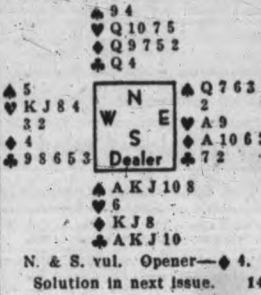

In conformation with this situation the committee wrote the letter, seeking reduction of the charges to the former amount of $5.

In the meantime, both warehouses have cancelled their licenses and Victoria is now without a bonded warehouse. This condition is expected to continue unless the fees are lowered.

The City School Board referred to the building and grounds committee a letter of protest from residents at 1123 Ormond Street over the noise from the technical school forge and the smoke and cinders from the chimney in that section of the plant.

Today's Contract Problem

South's contract of four spades has been doubled and redoubled. After winning the opening diamond lead with the ace, what diamond should East return?

N. & S. vul. Opener—4. Solution in next issue. 14

In this case was hearts. Of course, it was a little difficult for West to figure out why his partner wanted a heart shift; nevertheless, he called for it and a heart it was.

Declarer could have trumped West's heart return in dummy. If he had, it probably would have made his contract, as he now would not be able to get back into his own hand without first laying down the ace of trump, which would have caught East's singleton king.

But in this case, declarer allowed West's heart lead to come up to his own hand, and then played the queen of spades. West false-carded with the nine-spot, declarer took the finesse, and the contract was defeated.

If East had played the deuce of clubs on his partner's opening lead, he would have been asking for a diamond shift, while if an intermediate high club had been played, it would have directed West to continue with clubs, even though dummy could ruff.

U.B.C. Notes

University of British Columbia, April 9.—Owing to the seasonal examinations, students of all faculties have been crowding the study rooms and the university library in order to make a final review of the term work completed. For the past month library facilities have been strained to capacity to satisfy the demand of 1,800 students. Despite the absences caused by outbreaks of mumps and measles, the majority of undergrads seem fairly hopeful of drawing their year's work to a successful conclusion. One chemistry student ended his labors with a bang, as an unsuccessful mixture of acids and chemicals destroyed a few test tubes, but apart from this, the campus has been a place of extraordinary quiet for many days. To observe the earnest and preoccupied expressions of those intent upon their studies, reveals the fact that the U.B.C. at last is not one of the institutions of higher learning devoted to being a "playground of the idle rich."

During the last year the student body has enjoyed many successes. Due to the work of the students' council, under the able leadership of Bernard Beynensen, the extended noon recess came into effect. Intramural sport, under the direction of capable instructors became a feature of university activity, while extra curricular activities of all types were encouraged during the hour and a half lunch period.

The raising of $12,000 toward the fund for the Brock Memorial Student Union Building was another example of student achievement. Work will begin this summer on the construction of the memorial dedicated to the memory of Dean R. W. and Mrs. Brock, who were killed in the airplane crash last year at Alta Lake.

Aided by the whole-hearted support of the student body, a plan of co-operative boarding establishments will be put into practice next term for the benefit of out-of-town students. These boarding houses in which the students do the major part of the work, will provide room and board at greatly reduced rates for those who desire it. As a result, many who in the past have been unable to attend university because of the high cost of living away from home will now be able to enjoy the benefits of a university training.

GIFTS TO U.B.C. The gift of the Carnegie Institute to the University of British Columbia of a library of congress card catalogue, was one of great value to students of research, and reflected much credit to John R. Ridington, U.B.C. librarian, who secured its installation. The addition of an art collection to the library was also a valuable present from the Carnegie Institute. In the field of science, the gift of an X-ray apparatus has done much to further research.

The series of extension lectures delivered by professors to groups throughout the province, was a new and valuable feature of university activity begun during the last year. These lectures undertaken by members of the faculties of arts, science and agriculture, have been welcomed by the public as a means of establishing closer contacts with the institution at Point Grey. To the farmers in particular, the addresses by members of the agriculture department have proved of great value.

The student body in 1936 has been fortunate in hearing prominent business and professional men give interesting talks on subjects of a vocational nature. These lectures have served the purpose of acquainting the undergraduate with opportunities that await the university-trained man and woman.

ITALY'S BOMBERS BLAZE TRAIL OVER ETHIOPIA

Closer and closer to Ethiopia's vital central fastnesses creep the Italian air raids. Harar, principal city in the south and objective of the slow-moving offensive by General Graziani, was rocked by an air bombardment that set many of its flimsy structures ablaze and threw Addis Ababa, the capital, into terror of a similar fate. The plumes of smoke and fire rising from the Ethiopian plain pictured in this remarkable air-view mark the trail of destruction blazed by exploding bombs dropped by Italy's marauding airmen.

In addition to these speakers, several men outstanding in the fields of science and economics have addressed university groups. Among these men were Dr. A. H. Compton, cosmic ray expert and Nobel prize-winner, and Howard Scott, chief technocrat.

While a final check-up of graduating theses and discoveries in research has not yet been completed, the academic work of the student body has given evidence of high standards during the past year. The winning of the Rhodes Scholarship by Arthur Johnston, graduate in arts-1935 was an achievement worthy of mention. The appointment of several U.B.C. students as members of a geological survey in South Africa speaks well for the reputation of the science department of the university. The granting of two assistant professorships to graduates of British Columbia by the California Institute of Technology also added to the record of university achievements during the past session.

PUBLIC SUPPORT

Evidence of public approval has been accorded to the university by the increased support of all university activities. The number of Vancouver citizens who have attended the games played by Varsity students, the plays produced by the Varsity Players' Club, and the musical productions of the Musical Society, proved their interest in the U.B.C.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX-I thought perhaps you would like to know what qualities one young man admires most in a girl. Here is my ideal of the girl whom I hope some time to find and marry.

she must be: First. A virgin, preferably. Christian. Second. Pretty and attractive. Always tidy. Dressed tastefully. Must not make excessive use of cosmetic, nor pluck eyebrows, nor use gaudy coloring on fingernails. Third. Have a sweet disposition. Cheerful, not depressing. Fourth. Be refined. Never coarse or vulgar in manner or speech or clothes. Have pleasant manner. Must not wear, smoke, drink, nor have any really bad habits. Fifth. Use correct grammar. Have a pleasant voice in speaking. Sixth. Generally enjoy finer things in life. Love the classics in music, literature, etc. Be a lover of all beauty. Love nature and travel. Seventh. Emotions must run deep. Be of a sincere common-sense nature, not silly or flighty. Be reasonable. Eighth. Be kind and considerate in her dealings with her family and others. Ninth. Healthy. Interested in staying that way. Tenth. Not be a gum-chewer. Eleventh. Preferably she should be a musician and sing well. Twelfth. Be dependable, sincere, reverent, and dignified.

Then here is my idea of the perfect wife: First. She should endeavor to push her husband up the ladder of success, encourage him. Second. Not yell when hardships come. Third. Be thrifty. Know how to economize. Fourth. Good cook. Know proper diet. Fifth. Neat housekeeper, but not the crazy kind who will not let you walk across the room for fear you will track up the floor, or sit down in certain chairs because they are just for show.

Sixth. Not be sloppy at breakfast. Seventh. Preserve her youthful charm, figure and skin. Eighth. Believe her husband to be the best in the world and love him genuinely. Ninth. Never throw up to him some other man or an old boy friend. Never parade his faults before other women. Never allow them to talk about him or travel in general. Never speak slightly of him. Tenth. Be straightforward and frank. Never fear to tell him anything.

Eleventh. If he is superior in any way, never lord it over him. Twelfth. Must not whine, nor resort to baby talk to get something across. Thirteenth. Must not pout. Fourteenth. Must not nag. Fifteenth. Must have a brain of her own and be intelligent enough to understand and discuss weighty matters. Sixteenth. Never stoop to foolish bickerings and squabbles and gossip.

Seventeenth. Must love children and understand child psychology. Eighteenth. Must be willing to mother a couple of children. Nineteenth. Must prefer home life to a constant round of gay parties, carousing, etc. However, must be sociable and friendly. Twentieth. Must appreciate the little courtesies and loving words and daily caresses. Twenty-first. Must be faithful, not jealous, but have faith enough in husband to trust him.

What do you think of my ideals of the perfect girl and the perfect wife?

Answer-Great. Marvelous. Any female who could meet all of your demands would not only qualify as the perfect girl and the perfect wife, but as a perfect angel.

Offhand, one would be inclined to say with the old countryman who saw a hippopotamus for the first time that there "ain't no such animal" as the one you describe, but, curiously enough, so strange a thing is nature, there is. If you will concede a point or two, such as the plucked eyebrows, passionate fingernails, ability to play the piano and croon, the woods are full of girls who would fill your bill. They are moral, pretty, attractive, cheerful, intelligent, dependable, sincere and good to their mothers, and would make any man a fine wife.

Your letter happens to come just in time to fill a long-felt want, for I have been deluged with letters from girls, such as you describe, asking me if girls have to be bold and wild in their conduct, smoke and drink, pet and neck, wear loud and vulgar clothes to attract the admiration of men. So I am glad to print your letter and lighten them up by letting them see that, at least, one man is strong for the old-fashioned feminine virtues. May your tribe increase, for women are what men make 'em.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX-I am a young man whose wife is so slovenly in her housework and in the care of the sweetest baby that ever was that I feel like using caveman tactics on her. Would I be justified in doing so? She washes the baby's clothes only when there are no more to put on, even puts unwashed dresses on him. I crawl into a bed at night that looks as though a cyclone had hit it. Her cooking would kill an animal and she uses the same pots and pans over and over again without cleaning them. This is the first year of our married life and I wish it were over.

Answer-But there will be many other years just exactly like it, only worse, when there are more dirty babies crawling around a dirty house, so what are you going to do about it, Sam?

There is no man on earth for whom I am sorrier than I am for the man who is married to a lazy, shiftless sloven, because he is so helpless to change the situation. There is no appeal that he can make to that kind of a woman that will galvanize any spring of action in her. She has no pride, no ambition, no sense of duty or even of decency that he can touch. Her love of her own comfort is stronger than even her love for her husband or her child.

The law gives a woman the right to ask for a divorce from a husband who does not support her. It should give a man the right to a divorce from a wife who will not make him a clean and comfortable home. That is just as much her part of the obligation in marriage as it is his to provide the home. Perhaps the knowledge that they would lose their jobs unless they got busy with the cookstove and the broom would spur a lot of these lazy slovens into action.

Of course, the caveman tactics you suggest would be effective, but, unfortunately, conventions do not permit a man to raise his hand to a woman save in kindness, as the old melodramas used to say, no matter how much she needs it.

DEAR MISS DIX-I am a girl of twenty-five. Have lived a blameless life, but the man I am engaged to insists upon my "confessing my past." Says he will forgive me. But I haven't any past to confess. Shall I make up a story of imaginary sins to tell him?

Answer-Not unless you are the biggest morose that ever lived. Your sweetheart must be crazy, or else his only associates among women must have been very loose characters if he finds it impossible to believe that there are any decent girls left.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S EASTER HAT

By HOWARD E. GARIS

One day when Uncle Wiggily was hopping around looking for an adventure he met Mr. Twistytail, the fat pig gentleman. "Where are you going, Wiggily?" grunted the pig. "Adventuring," answered the rabbit. "Where are you going, Twisty?" "To my Easter hat different from any other hat," asked the bunny rabbit gentleman. "Certainly it is," said the pig. "An Easter hat is new. Always at Easter you must wear something new-a new suit of clothes, new shoes or a new hat. I happen to need a hat so I'm getting a new one for Easter, which is on Sunday, you know." "Yes," said Uncle Wiggily. "I know. Gracious! I've been so busy helping my wife and Nurse Jane color Easter eggs that I hardly have had time for adventures. But a new hat is a good idea. I'll get one right away." "Hop along with me," invited the jolly fat pig, and soon the two friends were on their way together.

MR. TWISTYTAIL KEEPS STORE

At the store Mr. Twistytail had no trouble getting his Easter hat as he had ordered it the week before. "But I shall have to ask you to come back later in the day to get your hat, Mr. Longears," said the March Hare, who kept the store. Formerly it was kept by a Mad Hatter but the March Hare said he was mad enough himself so he took over the store and really ran it very well. He said he was sorry he didn't have Uncle Wiggily's hat in stock, but he would get it by afternoon.

"I'll stop in then," said Mr. Longears, so he went adventuring while Mr. Twistytail waddled home with his Easter hat.

"What sounds like Uncle Wiggily's laugh?" moved the Bob Cat. "I'll go get him." But when the Bob Cat looked up close he saw, over the tops of the bushes, the flowered and ribboned hat of Mrs. Longears. "Bob Cat, don't want her! I want Uncle Wiggily!" said the fooled Bob Cat, and he sneaked away, and so the bunny gentleman was saved by the mistake of trying on his wife's Easter hat. And if the pussy cat will go to the store to get a brush to clean the canary bird's teeth I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Easter egg.

LOGGING ON PROPER BASIS

Vancouver, April 9.—British Columbia's present system of logging is an economic necessity and to attempt to change it by legislation would be an act of folly, Dr. C. A. Schenck, German forestry expert, told the Canadian Forest Engineers' Association yesterday evening.

Dr. Schenck commended the British Columbia forest branch. He made a study of its methods and during his tour of the British Columbia coast timber regions was in close touch with E. C. Manning, chief forester.

Dr. Schenck and Dr. H. Muller, chemist of Berlin, wood products expert, visited many lumber centres to study possibilities in British Columbia for manufacture of alpha-cellulose pulp, now used in Germany for high-grade rayon.

With adequate protection British Columbia should be able to produce highly satisfactory pulp timber in perpetuity, Dr. Muller-Clemm stated.

No More Piles
Get Quick, Pleasant Relief

Probably not one person in ten knows the cause of piles is in—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

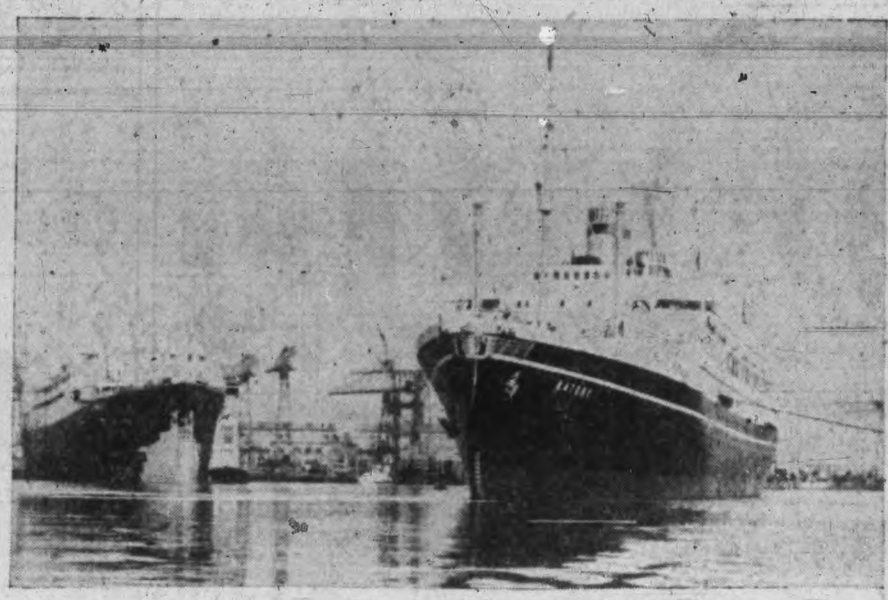

That is the scientific truth about piles and is the real reason why ails and supporters do not give more than temporary relief—they do not remove the cause.

Your piles can not be relieved until you have corrected the condition which causes them. That is why an internal medicine like HEM-ROID should be used.

HEM-ROID is the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, who, as a professional physician, has made many tests to relieve piles by correcting the cause. His medicine succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, eases the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

So if you have failed to get the relief you want from your piles, painful piles, and would like to give HEM-ROID a trial, you have our promise to return your money, if just one bottle of this prescription does not give pleasing results. MacFarlane or Vancouver Drug Store or any drug store, supply you with the genuine HEM-ROID.

London, April 9.—Questions were addressed in the Commons to Leslie Burgin, Parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade yesterday concerning intra-empire co-operation on such matters as British shipping in the Pacific and proposals that some of the Canadian Wheat Board's surplus grain be stored in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Burgin was asked what was the basis of co-operation proposed among empire governments in connection with the future of British shipping in the Pacific Ocean, said to be affected by United States subsidies. He also was asked when the proposed conference of interested parties of the empire on this question would be held.

Says B.C. Lumber Men Will Strike

Portland, April 9.—Abe Muir, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, said yesterday 20,000 British Columbia lumber workers "are determined to have the wage scale now effective in Oregon and Washington, or strike immediately."

Muir, who returned yesterday from Vancouver, said a poll of workers in British Columbia showed "99 per cent" favored affiliation with the American Federation of Labor movement.

Minimum wage in the British Columbia lumber industry is 25 cents and in Oregon and Washington 50 cents.

Muir said eight union chapters already have been installed in British Columbia and that "Mack" MacKinnon and Arnie Johnson of Vancouver had been designated to install others.
